Living a Soul Life

Orin's Audio Divine Will Meditations

by Sanaya Roman

Greetings from Orin! Welcome to this set of journeys that will assist you in calling upon the power of Divine Will to transform various areas of your life. Divine will is a powerful force of energy that you can call to you to bring the patterns of your life into alignment with the Divine plan and purpose of the Universe, and to fulfill your higher purpose.

In the following journeys, you will call upon and receive Divine Will energies from the seven Great Ones who are transmitting Divine Will to humanity. In each journey you will call upon all seven qualities of Divine Will, drawing their energy into yourself and then transmitting these energies to your life so that you can create a life that is in alignment with your soul, and to live and to know your higher path and purpose.

Once you call upon the power of Divine Will, you will need to surrender your personality plans and open to the greater plans of your soul, which sees more for your life than your personality can even imagine. It is important to let go of specific outcomes you desire. Your personality cannot dictate to Divine Will or to your soul what the outcome should be or the timing. Trust that whatever happens to you in this area of your life is something that is meant to happen, and that all is unfolding perfectly.

As you work with Divine Will you are setting your intention, you are strengthening your personal will, and you are aligning with your soul's will. With these journeys you are planting the seeds for these changes to happen in your life. Remember, however, that you are the one that must bring about these changes. After working in meditation you will need to carry out the ideas and guidance you receive with action, so that you can experience transformation in these areas in your outer world. After you work with each journey, there are some suggested Orin books and/or audio journeys which may assist you further in bringing about changes in these areas of your life.

Please note: All journeys assume a knowledge of the seven qualities of Divine Will as taught in the Millennium Journeys Transforming with Divine Will Part 1 (MM050).

This is a set of journeys to work with Divine Will to live a soul life. It is best to listen to each journey in sequence as each one builds on the prior journey. These journeys constitute a set of steps you can take to live a soul life. What follows is a summary of the journeys.

Program 1 Becoming Your Soul

In this journey you will draw in the seven qualities of Divine Will to have a deeper connection to your soul, and to release obstacles and limitations that stand in the way of knowing and becoming your soul. With Divine Will you can liberate yourself from old personality patterns and resistance to becoming your soul. Call upon the power of Divine Will to blend your personality and soul, so that the inertia of your personality (that resists growth) is infused with your soul's flow, movement, and expansion. Become your soul and expand your vision to know more of your soul's purposes, so you can carry out what you came to earth to do. Your personality gains many new strengths and skills as it surrenders its will to your soul's will, as you become a soul-infused personality. Fulfilling your soul's goals and purposes adds light to the world and brings you abundance, love, and a life that works for you.

*Recommended reading: Soul Love–Awakening Your Heart Centers. Recommended courses: Courses 1 and 2 of the Millennium Journeys (MM010 and MM020).

Program 2 Awakening Divine Love

You will receive Divine Will into your heart center to awaken it, allowing you to experience more unconditional love, compassion, forgiveness, transparency, acceptance, trust, and other soul qualities of love. With Divine Will, you will create a field of love coming out of your heart center that touches all life, that creates greater unity and harmony between you and others, and that connects you with your soul's love and Divine Love, an aspect of Divine Will. Live in a state of peace and serenity as love pours into you and radiates through you. Become radiant with Divine Love that draws all good things to you, and that makes all things whole. Love is one of the most powerful forces in the universe, and it can transform you and all the energies around you.

*Recommended reading: Soul Love–Awakening Your Heart Centers. Recommended courses: Soul Love audio course (SL105). Single audio journeys: Radiating Unconditional Love (P103), Compassion and Forgiveness (SI104).

Program 3 Strengthening Self-Love

To live a soul life is to love and honor yourself, for as you do you are loving and honoring your soul. Call Divine Will to yourself to initiate new ideas around how to love and honor yourself. Fill yourself with the vision, love, strength, and fearlessness to do those things that are loving to yourself. Draw in Divine Will so all parts of yourself, all your subpersonalities support you in fulfilling your dreams, in having self-confidence and self-esteem, and in honoring your value and worth. Recognize your uniqueness, beauty, and strength; honor your path and recognize your special gifts. Work with Divine Will to discover new, creative ways to love yourself and to honor and respect your time and energy. Have the courage to be yourself, to trust your inner wisdom, to take care of yourself, to get enough rest, good food, peace and quiet, and everything else you need to live a good life. Experience loving thoughts of yourself, release beliefs that keep you from honoring yourself, and manifest a higher level of self-care.

*Recommended reading: Living With Joy. Recommended course: Living With Joy Course 1 (L201), also single audio journeys: Self-Love (L102), I am Loved, I am Lovable (SI105).

Program 4 Transforming Your Emotions

Link with Divine Will and transform your emotional body so you can feel the inner peace and serenity of your soul no matter what is happening around you. You can connect with Divine Will to create flowing emotions, to love your emotions, and to evolve them. You can have the feelings you want and not react to the emotions of others. Choose to feel the joy and love of your soul more often and in more situations, and to experience a calm acceptance of the ups and downs of life. Release pain, conflict, and drama. Transform fears, doubts, and emotions that make you feel separated from others and bad about yourself by transforming your emotions with the power of Divine Will.

*Recommended reading: Living With Joy; Personal Power Through Awareness, and Spiritual Growth. Recommended course: Spiritual Growth Course 1–Raising Your Vibration (SG101). Single audio journeys: Feeling Inner Peace (L101), Being Happy (SI100), Staying in Your Center (SG003).

Program 5 Illuminating Your Mind

Draw all seven qualities of Divine Will into your mind to have clear, illumined thoughts that reflect your soul's thoughts and ideas. Link your mind with the Universal Mind, have new, creative thoughts, expand your thinking, and receive a wealth of ideas about whatever you focus on. Open to revelations, insights, and thoughts that lead to freedom from limitations. Work with Divine Will to formulate clear thoughts about the issues in your life and to gain greater certainty about what to do and what actions to take. Transmit Divine Will to your mind so that your thoughts guide you to your path of higher evolution and liberation. Have the intention to release illusions and limiting beliefs, so that you can see and know truth. Illuminate your mind so you can know what needs to be built and brought into your life, and what needs to be released. Let your new thoughts show you what a wonderful future you can create and the steps you need to take to bring about this higher future of living as your soul.

Recommended reading: Spiritual Growth. Audio course: Spiritual Growth—Being Your Higher Self (SG102). Single audio journey: Unlimited Thinking (SI108).

Program 6 Knowing Your Life Purpose

To live as a soul is to find and create the physical expression of your life purpose. Call forth the seven qualities of Divine Will to bring about a new awareness of your life purpose; to gain a larger vision of your life, and a greater awareness of why you are here and what you are here to do. Listen to your heart as Divine Will pours into you, showing you those activities that bring you aliveness and that call to your heart, for those activities are part of your life purpose. Let Divine Will open your mind so you can better recognize and know what activities are on your path and which ones need to be released. Divine Will can help you bring all the elements of your life—your skills, and the things you love to do—together so you can manifest your purpose and find your right livelihood. Your self-image can expand to include new paths and directions. Your hidden talents and skills can come to the surface. Finding and expressing your life purpose brings you closer to enlightenment and to liberation, adds light to the world, and leads to abundance and prosperity.

Recommended reading: Creating Money by Orin and DaBen. Audio courses: Becoming a World Server—Creating Your Life Purpose (M200) and Living With Joy Course 2—Taking a Quantum Leap (L202). Single audio journeys: Discovering Your Life Purpose (L104), and Manifesting Your Destiny (SI009).

Program 7 Increasing Abundance and Prosperity

Open to the abundance of the universe. It is in alignment with Divine Will that you have abundance; so not only are you willing abundance and prosperity into your life, but Divine Will is Willing this into your life as well. Your soul is abundant; as you create abundance you are allowing your soul's abundance to be expressed through your life and personality. Work with the power of Divine Will to initiate new consciousness around prosperity and to develop a magnetic aura that draws good things to you through your love and unity with all life. Expand your vision of what is possible to have in your life.

Increase your ability to experience abundance through your creative work. Release limitations and energize new beliefs that will serve you in creating the abundance and prosperity you deserve. Let your creative mind, linked with your soul and knowing its plans and purposes, show you what steps and actions to take to experience more abundance. You can manifest abundance in ways that serve your spiritual growth and that add light to the world.

*Recommended reading: Creating Money by Orin and DaBen. Audio course: Creating Money—Keys to Abundance (M100). Single audio journey: Opening to Receive (L106).

Program 8 Receiving Clear Inner Guidance

You can call Divine Will into your life to receive clear inner guidance from your higher self and soul. Gain more awareness of your spiritual guidance and the courage to trust and to act upon it. Release limitations and blockages that keep you from hearing, trusting in, and responding to your soul's loving guidance. Work with Divine Will to get quiet and to let go of your personality desires for some area of your life, and listen to your soul's guidance. Recognize your inner guidance as it comes through your intuition, dreams, and feelings. Learn to distinguish between your personality worries and the guidance of your soul. Your soul's guidance is the quiet, calm, peaceful voice that is underneath feelings of worry, doubt, and fear. Link with your higher mind so you can more clearly interpret the messages you receive. Acknowledge spiritual guidance in all forms and have greater certainty of what choices to make.

*Recommended reading: Personal Power Through Awareness. Audio courses: Personal Power Through Awareness Course 1—Sensing Energy (P201) and Millennium Journeys: Course 1 (MM010). Single audio journeys: Developing Intuition (O10), Trusting Your Inner Guidance (SI107).

Program 9 Expanding Your Creativity

Draw in these seven qualities of Divine Will to express creativity, an important soul quality. Discover new, creative ways to experience your soul, to expand your consciousness, and to develop wonderful relationships with everyone in your life. Let your creativity blossom as you express the creative intelligence of your soul through your original, fresh thoughts, and inventive ideas and plans. Creatively bring about your plans and goals. Use your creativity to manifest your life purpose and to bring prosperity and abundance into your life. Acknowledge and develop your originality, your uniqueness, and your special gifts and talents. Increase your creativity in all activities that you do, as well as in art, music, writing, or whatever field of study or work you enjoy. Work with Divine Will to strengthen your ability to create meaningful new forms, to birth new consciousness, and to be inventive and original with your ideas. See yourself as a talented and creative person.

*Recommended reading: Living With Joy and Spiritual Growth. Audio course: Living With Joy Course 2—Taking a Quantum Leap (L202). Single audio journey: Opening Creativity—Attracting Ideas (SI046).

Program 10 Evolving Your Body

Direct Divine Will into your body to purify it and to release denser, lower energies. Build a body that reflects your soul's beauty and light—a refined, strong, and healthy body. Expand your vision of what is possible and recognize how to love and care for your body. Create a body that can serve you in becoming your soul and carry out the activities of your soul and the divine plan of your life. Work with Divine Will to creatively transform your body, to know what steps to take, and to find the shortest, most effective path to evolving your body. Surrender your personality desires for your body to your soul's goals and visions of your body. Create positive thoughts, clear plans, and the belief that you can create a body that serves you in all that you need to do. Love the body you have, and work with Divine Will to evolve it. Let the inertia of matter in your body meet with the transformative power of Divine Will and evolve into a lighter, finer body.

*Recommended audio course: Creating Your Ideal Body (SI031). Single audio journeys: Body Beautiful (SI050), Losing Weight, Looking Younger (SI030), Feeling Energetic (SI005), and Reprogramming at Cellular Level (SI056).

Program 11 Creating a Supportive Environment

Connect with Divine Will to create an environment that supports you in living a soul life. You can work with this journey to manifest a new place to live. Or, you can transform your existing environment as you bring into it the right amount of light, energy, flow, space, connection to nature, beauty, harmony, art, and everything you need to live your life purpose and to feel supported in the world. Be in right relationship with all life around you, including your loved ones who live with you, your neighbors, and the plants, animals, and earth energy you live around. Release attachment to forms that no longer serve you, and bring into your life new forms that add to your light. Expand your vision of what you can have, believe you can have your ideal environment, transform your existing environment, and realize what you need to create around you to have a stronger, better connection to your soul. Enhance the subtle energies present in your environment, and call the angelic kingdom to join you in uplifting the energies you live in and around.

*Recommended reading: Personal Power Through Awareness. Audio course: Personal Power Through Awareness Course 1–Sensing Energy (P201).

Program 12 Living a Soul Life

Work with Divine Will to create a soul life of balance, peace, and joy, of love and harmony, and of clear thoughts. Experience an ever-expanding vision of your life and how you can initiate the true activity of your soul in alignment with the divine plan and purpose of your life. Work with the power of Divine Will to move energy, to initiate those activities that express your soul's light. Relate at a soul level to others and create relationships that support you in living a soul life. Listen to, follow your heart, and surrender to your soul's wonderful plans for your life. Draw in Divine Will to release busyness and over-activity, to live in the moment, to embrace inner silence, and to live in the rhythm of your soul. Release the limitations that your personality has put on your soul. Join with Divine Will so that your actions and thoughts lead you to enlightenment and to liberation, for the good of all life. Picture and believe you can live a soul life.

*Recommended reading: Soul Love. Audio course: Soul Love Course 1–Awakening Your Heart Centers (SL105). Single audio journey: Being Your Higher Self (SI040).

What Is Divine Will?

The seven qualities of Divine Will are some of the most powerful forces in the universe. Receiving them can transform your life, unfold your highest potential, expand your consciousness, and assist you in manifesting in alignment with the Divine Plan and the higher purpose of your life. Aligning with Divine Will can open your vision, deepen your intuition, release limitations, liberate your spirit from the bonds of matter, and enable you to create your highest future. As you call Divine Will to you, you become more conscious of the Divine Plan, of your soul and your higher purpose, the Enlightened Ones, and the larger whole of which you are a part.

What Divine Will Is Not

Many have thought that living in alignment with Divine Will means picking a goal and then moving toward it in an unbending and unshakable way. Divine Will is not about reaching a goal or fulfilling the need to achieve by sheer force or determination. Divine Will is a powerful electrical force of pure spiritual energy that comes from the higher dimensions of light. Calling it to you creates an enormous infusion of spiritual energy into your life that awakens new consciousness and realizations. One of its qualities is its ability to withdraw the energy from old forms, so that the new can be born. Working in this way can create profound and wonderful changes in your life.

Desire Versus Divine Will

Desire comes from and can be considered your personal will. Desire works from the earth plane upward. Desires that are strong enough, such as the desire for spiritual growth and enlightenment, or the desire to serve humanity, can call Divine Will into your life. Divine Will works from the higher planes and travels downward, transforming every level of your being and all the energies it contacts. Although you may call Divine Will into your life to assist you in fulfilling a particular personality desire, when it comes to you, Divine Will supersedes your personal will and desires. What you want will change as your personality desires are transformed by Divine Will, for your personality desires will then be for those things that reflect your soul's purpose and the divine plan for your life. The things you desire will lead to your enlightenment and your liberation from the world of form. Many of the changes that calling Divine Will to you can create won't appear in form or as expansions of consciousness that you can recognize until months later, and possibly not ever. Once people expand into a new level of awareness, they usually don't remember what they were like before, and take the new consciousness for granted. Divine Will simply becomes your will. It feels like what you want to do and how you have always been.

You Must Call Divine Will to You

It is important to know that to transform with Divine Will, you need to call Divine Will to you, contact it, and draw it into your life. It comes into your soul where it is focused in your soul's light. It is always used for the purpose of light and good. When you draw Divine Will into yourself, you become a transmitter of it to your life, to others, and to the plant, animal, and mineral kingdoms. Transmitting the energies of Divine Will can help accelerate your and other's evolution. Once you have called it to you, you are the one who needs to take action.

Calling Divine Will into your life plants the seeds of change and evolution. You need to listen to and follow your inner guidance, and take action in the directions that emerge, for your life to come into alignment with Divine Will.

Assisting Humanity by Working with Divine Will

Most of humanity is not yet able to experience and to align with Divine Will, for doing so requires a degree of sensitivity to subtle energies. As more people align with Divine Will and live their lives accordingly, the qualities of Divine Will can be felt and known by many more, and eventually by everyone. Aligning with, drawing in, contacting, and calling to themselves the energies of Divine Will is required for humanity to take a major evolutionary step. The needed changes can be brought about by humanity focusing its will as a group, inspired by love, expressed through the intellect, and under direction of Divine Will. When enough people call upon and live in alignment with Divine Will, all of humanity will begin to shift in its orientation to the light, then the higher purpose of humanity can be known and fulfilled and the other kingdoms can reach their next level of evolution.

Who Are the Great Ones Who Transmit Divine Will?

The Great Beings who transmit Divine Will have been called “Ray Lords, Great Ones, or Custodians,” for they act as custodians of the Divine Will of God/Goddess, All-That-Is, and convey these energies into our solar system and into the earth. They bring humanity the energy of Divine Will. You can simply sense this as energy that is available to you just by having the intention to connect with it. The ageless wisdom and mystery school teachings indicate that their reflection in time and space is expressed through the seven stars of the Great Bear or Ursa Major that form the Big Dipper. These stars are the “bodies” of seven Great Ones who are transmitting Divine Will to humanity that is coming from even higher sources. However, to contact and draw in the energies of Divine Will, it is not necessary to think of these Beings as stars, but simply to have the intention to connect with these powerful energies and draw them into your life by calling upon them.

Actions of Divine Will

Transcending: Divine Will is whole and complete, and sees all things from beginning to end—past, present, and future—yet knows that the personality self must be expanded in gradual stages into this realization. It transcends the limits and the consciousness of the personality self which is encased in the world of form.

Transmitting: Divine Will is transmitted and those who receive it become transmitting agents of it. Part of humanity’s purpose is to transmit Divine Will to the plant, animal, and mineral kingdoms, just as the higher kingdoms are transmitting Divine Will to humanity. You can receive and transmit Divine Will to any area of your life, to others, and to other kingdoms.

Transforming: Divine Will transforms that which receives its transmission.

Transfiguring: This transformation leads the many back to the one; the many become one.

You can draw Divine Will to you by connecting with and receiving the energy of Divine Will from the Being who is transmitting each quality. Orin has made audio journeys to assist you in experiencing these energies. In addition, once you have made this connection you can also draw in any quality of Divine Will whenever you have the intention to do so.

The Will to Initiate: Awakening New Consciousness

The Will energy coming from this Great One is the Will to initiate new consciousness, to expand consciousness, to have insights and revelations, and to initiate the true activity of your soul in accordance with the Divine Plan and higher purpose of your life. This Ray is the initiator of the new and the destroyer of anything that negates or goes against your soul and spirit. It takes away obstacles to living your true purpose and path.

Linking with this Will strengthens your ability to sense and to know your true Self; your soul and Spirit. From this Self you can tap into pure life-force energy and vitality. You can experience the power of Spirit to expand and to initiate new consciousness. You become aware of the seed of divinity within yourself and all life.

Receiving the transmissions of this Will helps you to see the bigger picture of your life and of the universe. It is as if you are lifted to the top of a mountain where you have an expanded view. With this Will you can see beyond your personality because you identify with your soul and spirit. Identifying with your true Self expands you beyond the boundaries of your personal self. You sense more of the whole of life and have more insights about how your life fits into this greater whole. It is the ability to see/sense/feel and connect with a greater Whole that allows you to better know the unique and special part you can play in the grand plan of the Universe.

Ask yourself: "If everything I did in my life was something I could take with me after I leave the material world, what would I be doing with my life? How would I live my life?" You would see first of all that expanding your consciousness was one of the most important goals you could choose, both for yourself and for humanity. The only thing you will take with you is your consciousness—the light and love you embody. As you ask this question, you can realize that every activity you do offers you the opportunity to expand and initiate new consciousness! As you orient toward Spirit, you redesign your life so that the way you do every activity expresses a quality of consciousness that is of value to your soul and serves the greater whole of which you are a part.

This Will strengthens your power to set things in motion, to move energy, either by yourself or to sustain a group effort in doing so. You can transmit this Will to those areas where you want to create movement and transformation. As you draw this Will into yourself and align with the core of your being, you release a flow of energy into your life that brings courage, strength, and life-affirming energy. As you draw in this Will, you can increase the qualities of courage and fearlessness that will assist you in pursuing those goals that represent your higher purpose and that are in alignment with the Divine Plan.

Your highest self—soul, and spirit—welcomes the new. It has no fears, such as the fear of change or the fear of the unknown. It loves new experiences and embraces the future. This is the Will that helps you know that whatever comes will be even better than what is leaving. It helps you release those forms that need to be released to make way for the new and higher forms in your life. Because this Will strengthens your identification with Life, with Spirit, you have more detachment from the pull and attraction of the forms in your life and thus a better ability to let go of those that no longer serve you.

This Will assists you in strengthening your resolve to create your goals, and in not letting yourself be deflected from creating your higher goals. This is the Will that destroys all hindrances to expressing your soul's light. It brings an increasing power and ability to see what stands in the way and what needs to be released to manifest the purposes of your soul. You can align with it to have a stronger one-pointed focus on your goals and therefore be able to more rapidly create your higher purpose and path.

Through this Will you can find the shortest path to your goals. You can work with it to better know what is essential in your life and what is nonessential according to your soul.

If you are experiencing obstacles, draw in this will to find new ways to achieve the results you seek. Let this Will increase your patience and assist you in releasing the feeling that you need to effort and push to get what you want. Rather than pushing through obstacles, draw in this Will and expand your consciousness so you can better know what actions to take that may be obvious and right in front of you.

This quality of Divine Will doesn't like to be stopped or contained. Linking with it assists you in finding ways to accomplish things besides pushing and struggling. Moving energy with Will is easier than working at a personality level to remove obstacles. Some have compared this to getting behind your car and pushing it to get it somewhere, (personality pushing and efforting) rather than sitting in your car and pushing the gas pedal (Divine Will).

If too many doors seem to close, if at every step you feel thwarted, if things are constantly hard to create, then stop! What you are creating is not in flow with Divine Will. Reexamine what you want, keep linking with this Will, and bring in new consciousness, insights, and awareness about what goals you are meant to create.

The Will to Unify: Developing Vision

The Will to Unify is a wonderful aspect of Divine Will to draw into your life to expand your vision, to dissolve all barriers, to feel your oneness with all life, and to unify all the parts of yourself. This Will unifies your personality, soul, and spirit. Many of you will find this aspect of Divine Will to be the most familiar, comfortable, and powerful of all seven qualities. This is the quality of Divine Will that is strongest at this time. The World Teachers of Divine Love are radiating it to humanity and its note of unity is sounding throughout the higher realms of the Enlightened Ones, as well as through the human, animal, and vegetable kingdoms.

The basic energy of Will coming from this Great One is the Will to unify, to synthesize, to produce coherence and mutual attraction, and to bring opposites together. Its magnetic love transforms all life it touches. It takes those things that are separate and makes them whole. Its lowest expression in matter is the attraction between people and its highest expression is the attraction and fusion of spirit and matter. It is the energy that allows matter to be transformed by spirit.

This quality of Divine Will brings you the gift of clear vision; you can see more of the larger picture and know how all the parts of the whole relate to each other. With this vision you can know what is to be loved and how to love. It brings you vision of your right relationship to other people and to all life. The aspect of Divine Will transmitted by this Great One enables you to see your path, others who are on the path, your soul, the souls of others, and the beings of light who are guiding humanity. With this soul connection you can recognize the best in people, and help them to bring it about simply through your awareness of this part of them.

The Will to Unify adds to your ability to lead, to teach, to heal, and to serve others in the highest way. With your vision of unity and love, you can dissolve barriers between yourself and others. You can stop behaviors and feelings that cause you to feel separate, superior, inferior, or critical of others. You become more whole and complete within yourself, and your radiance of this energy helps others to feel the same way.

As you transform with this Will, it expands your vision of how to love and awakens you to experience Divine Love. Divine Love can feel impersonal, for it is not concerned with making people “feel good.” Divine Love is unselfish and does not respond to the often selfish desires of the personality to give love just to get love in return. Divine Love offers love that truly empowers people to become more whole, to find their unity with all life, and to bring about the higher vision and purpose of their lives.

When you work with the Will to Unify your vision of the whole of life increases. Your ability to see your path and purpose grows. Your heart calls to you to follow your joy and do what you love with your life. You become magnetic to your higher good. You may find your goals changing as you work with the Will to Unify. Those goals that call to your heart may reveal themselves to you. The goals you are energizing that are not in alignment with your soul’s purpose and that do not reflect your heart’s desires may change. As you work with Divine Will, your desires will clarify, and new directions may emerge. The Will to Unify brings a vision of your next step. When you take this step it will open up your next step. If you have not been able to see how to create your dreams and goals, work with this quality of Will to expand your vision so that you can see and take your next steps.

This is the Will that builds gradually, is patient, and works steadily toward a goal. It draws everything it needs to itself through its magnetic love and through feeling at one with all life. There is no sense of efforting and pushing to accomplish goals, but instead a respect for working with the flows that are present. As you think about your goals and dreams and connect with the Will to Unify, you may notice that you begin to relax more about your goals, there is not such a sense of urgency, and you feel more trust that what you want will come to you at the perfect time and in the perfect form.

The Will to Evolve: Becoming Wise

The Being transmitting the Will to Evolve has been called, among other names, the Being of Active Intelligence. This Great One is closely linked to the creation of forms and works in cooperation with the Second Will. This energy guides humanity in building forms and creating civilizations that are in alignment with Divine Purpose. This Will has an enormous effect on humanity. As more and more people are able to receive and create in alignment with Divine Will, society will come to reflect the divine patterns more completely. There will be love and respect for each other and for all life, a clean environment, unity in diversity, and all that represents the manifestation of the Divine Purpose on earth. The influence of this quality of Will is very strong, and is moving humanity to activity that is guided by the soul rather than activity that has no higher purpose.

This quality of Divine Will includes both the will to evolve consciousness and the will to evolve forms. It is the will to initiate on the physical plane that which expresses divinity. It is the underlying force that allows matter to respond to mind; that manifests the thoughts and pictures in your mind and brings them into the outer world. This Will links you with the Creative Intelligence of the universe; it stimulates the creation and the carrying forward of plans to bring out the goals of your soul, spirit, and of the divine plan of the universe.

As the energy of creative intelligence, this Will links you with the mind of God, also known as the Universal Mind. The Will to Evolve is one of the most stimulating influences touching humanity right now. Until people have some degree of soul awareness, the impact of this Will stimulates them to evolve the forms in their lives, guided by their personalities and not by their souls. As the personality develops and makes soul contact, the impulse to evolve is to create forms and activities that come from the soul, because people can see more of the bigger picture of their lives and of the universe. As soul contact deepens, the impulse is to expand the consciousness, and wisdom results. Eventually the goal is reached where the self is known to be neither the forms or the consciousness, but the Spirit, the One, that is greater than either the form or the consciousness.

This Will stimulates activity—creating, planning, arranging, and doing. When you tap into this Will you can draw in a wealth of ideas around anything you focus on. To work with this Will, it is important to let go of the plans of your personality and open to the plans of your soul. As you draw in this Will, get quiet and listen to your soul, and sense new directions that are emerging, the new forms and new consciousness that want to arise.

Are you too busy? If you find that you are always rushing around, with too many things to do, trying to do everything at once, work with this Will to see what activities are part of your higher purpose, and which ones need to be released. If you are creating from a limited personality view, what you manifest is not nearly as beautiful as what you can create when you connect with your soul and manifest its purposes and plans. This Will can assist you in bringing too much activity into just the right amount of activity that accomplishes your soul's goals and the higher purposes of your life.

Stop your busyness long enough to examine why you are doing certain activities. Look at each activity and ask, "Does accomplishing this have value to my soul? Or, is this activity of value only to my personality that likes to be busy, feel useful, and have something to do all the time?" Take time to get still and think about the forms and activities you are engaged in. Do any of the forms you have created hold you prisoner? Are you a slave to them? Is your life running you, or are you (the soul, the higher self) guiding your life? If you are feeling trapped or burdened in maintaining the forms you have created, get still and link with your soul and the Will to Evolve.

With a stance of inner silence, soul contact, and contact with Divine Will, you can see what you need to create that has value to your soul and that reflects your true purpose. To do this you need to be open to the new and to be willing to let go of the plans your personality has made. You can know areas in which you are creating forms that are out of alignment with your soul's purposes by looking at places in your life that are not working as well as you sense they could. You may have been getting whispers, even shouts, that changes need to be made. Look at what issues are right in front of you to solve as the first places to direct this Will to, to evolve both the forms you have created and your consciousness.

To create forms that are aligned with Divine Will and its higher patterns, get in touch with the essence of what you want to create before you manifest something. Work with the Will to Evolve to find creative new ways to bring this essence about and have it more clearly expressed in the new forms and patterns you manifest. This Will is connected to the throat center of communication, words, and ideas. This Will can help you put the whole picture together, and weave the elements of your life into more beautiful patterns.

Experiencing the Void: One of the challenges of drawing in this Will is that the personality may find itself distressed when it sees that some of the activities it gave great importance to are not really important from the soul's perspective. Something that the personality has worked for may appear useless. It is hard to stop doing things that you have done for years. While old ways are now perceived as needing to be stopped or changed, new ideas have yet to appear. The personality can feel as if it in a void space as it lets go of what is now perceived as unnecessary activity, but hasn't yet found something new to do. This feeling of being in the void can last for hours, days, or even months. Draw in the Will to Evolve and get silent to see more of your life, of the universe, and of your connection to your soul, Divine Will, and the souls of others. From the space of listening and paying attention you can hear or sense the new directions that want to emerge. You do not have to let go of everything at once; the first step is listening and paying attention. The more you call forth Divine Will, align with your soul, and expand your thinking, the more what you create will be aligned with your true purpose and help bring about the Divine Plan for your life.

Even though the void can be uncomfortable, it is important to use this time to make a stronger connection to your soul and Divine Will rather than seeking to create something, anything, just to be busy again. Trust that there is a Divine Plan and that it is unfolding perfectly. Let it work out in its own timing and in its own way. Learn to be patient and wait for the new to appear, rather than force a course of action. When you force something to happen rather than wait for opportunities to appear, you can actually delay the working out of the higher plan for your life. Interpret what appears as a time of no outer activity as a time of the inner activity of evolving your consciousness. Be patient, and refuse to take action on lesser plans which may delay you and need to be undone later. As you expand your consciousness, what you create afterward will be infinitely more fulfilling.

Manifesting with the Will to Evolve: This Will gives you the power to recognize and to think within the blueprint of the Divine Plan. It can expand your mind so that you can see issues in relation to many other issues, allowing you to perceive creative ways to bring about the divine plan.

The Will to Evolve radiates energy that assists you in perceiving new ways to create a life of love and joy by expanding your consciousness. It assists you in manifesting those plans and life directions that are the divine plan for your life. This is the Will of the weaver. It can assist in putting the whole picture together. It helps create beauty through taking the familiar, putting it into new and more interesting patterns, and thus coming up with new possibilities. It allows you to see the best way to go, to bring all the elements together, and to know how much energy to apply to get the results you want. This Will evolves your consciousness so you can experience new ideas, creativity, the ability to see patterns, to make connections, to bring various elements together, to plan and to strategize, and thus to weave beautiful new patterns into your life.

Manifesting and creating under this Will can be very creative and spontaneous. Things may appear as you need them. Plans may be changed to fit the evolving circumstances. Because this Will brings a vision of the larger picture, and of all the pieces that need to be put into place to bring it about, there can also be a tendency to try to make things happen, rather than responding to the opportunities that are there. Challenge yourself to let things happen as they will, without trying to control how they happen. Let it be all right to have an element of spontaneity and unpredictability in your life. Let go of trying to make something happen (particularly if you feel like you are pushing or efforting to make it happen) and believe that things that are meant to come about will do so when you relax and flow with the universe. Trust that the universe is always working with you.

The Will to Harmonize: Deepening Intuition

The energy of Divine Will coming from this Great One is the Will to release limitation; to create harmony and unity where there is conflict. Limitation refers to the struggle between life (spirit) and that which it has chosen as its limitation (form). Every time you release limitation and harmony is created, you are then ready for a fresh inflow of Divine Will that leads again to conflict, as this higher energy creates a need for new expansion and balance.

Among others, there are two conflicting forces which can be brought into harmony under this Will. First is the energy that brings a love of ease and pleasure, a dislike of causing pain, procrastination, a desire to let things be, to rest, and to have no thought of consequences. The opposing energy that this Will brings out is a fiery, impatient, ever-urging to action energy. These contrasting forces can make life one of continual warfare and unrest until these two forces are harmonized. Some people experience this as “driving with the brake on” while others may swing back and forth from expressing one aspect of this to the other.

This Will awakens the intuition, which shows the way of harmony and unity. Intuition comes spontaneously through thoughts and feelings and tells you what actions to take to align with the Divine plan of your life, with all the parts of yourself, and with others. It is through listening to and using your intuition that you can know how to harmonize with the greater whole of life, release conflict, and experience the peace and love of your soul. This is the Will that harmonizes all the parts of your being, and that can assist you in taking your intuitive insights and feelings and in applying them appropriately to your life to create more harmony and beauty.

This is the illumined Will and is connected with the creation of art, music, and beauty in all forms. The Will to Harmony sees disharmony as ugliness, and Will's beauty to come about through creating harmonious relationships between all the parts. Sometimes this beauty will be expressed in form, color, and sound, such as through the creation of art and music. Sometimes this beauty will be expressed through harmonizing the soul with the personality, harmonizing with others, or creating beauty in relationships.

Part of the role of humanity is to harmonize the higher kingdoms with the animal, plant, and mineral kingdoms, acting as a channel for divine energy from the higher to the lower. By doing this humanity will bring about unity, harmony, and beauty in nature, and will harmonize their souls with the souls of the animal, plant, and mineral kingdoms.

Use the Will to Harmonize to allow your emotional nature to transform as it is absorbed by and harmonized with your soul. Observe how your personality becomes stronger and gains more power to create beauty in your life as it is transformed by your soul. As conflict is resolved into harmony, you can experience serenity, confidence, and balance.

This Will balances or harmonizes the “highs and lows” and can assist you in staying balanced. By understanding that both the highs and lows have their place and accepting wherever you are in the cycle, you can develop serene acceptance of the ups and downs.

This Will assists you in creating harmony between yourself and others. It allows you to find the underlying unity that brings everyone together, yet allows each person to have their individual ways. It is the Will that you can call upon to find the win/win solution. All the illusions and limitations of being separate are dissolved as the underlying unity is found—the place where agreement, harmony, and peace coexist—even among diversity. Let yourself create new harmony between yourself and everyone in your life through finding what you have in common with others.

If you experience a limitation in your thinking or in a situation in your life, draw in this quality of Will and transmit it to this situation, for this is the Will that releases limitation.

If you have decisions you are trying to make, going back and forth, use this Will to find the higher way, and to know if you even need to make a decision. You may find yourself in a situation where you are torn between two directions or choices. This Will and your intuition can assist you in seeing if you need to choose, or if there is a middle way that embraces both ways.

Explore how this Will can expand your creative imagination. You can see and imagine more in every area of your life as you connect with your intuition and as limitations are released.

Some aspects of the Will to Harmonize: power to penetrate the depths of matter, to reveal the path, to express divinity, and to create true beauty and the harmony of the spheres.

The Will to Act: Achieving Liberation

This quality of Divine Will is called the will to Act. The action that is taken is to formulate clear, concise thoughts about the issues in your life so that you can see and can know with certainty what to do. Connecting with the Will to Act can lead you out of confusion, and into the light of knowingness through your ability to investigate, think things through, figure things out, and use common sense. It is the Will you can receive to transform feelings of doubt, confusion, and uncertainty by using your mind, connected with your higher mind, to KNOW what to do.

When you want clearer thoughts, or to know what to do in some area, declare (as you imagine linking with the Will to Act) "I WILL to know (about...)" Imagine that you are calling this will to you with this statement.

Your mind has tremendous potential, and it is a major part of the development of humanity right now to awaken the mind (through linking the higher and lower minds) and to use the resources of the illumined intellect. It is important to have the connection to your higher mind, so that your concrete, logical mind becomes illumined with the light of your soul's mind, and can formulate clear, precise thoughts and can objectively think things through. The mind, linked with the higher mind, will then formulate clear thoughts that indicate the actions that need to be taken to liberate your spirit from the bonds of matter. You can build strands of light linking your higher and lower mind every time you work with the Will to Act so that you can know your soul's mind and think as you soul.

As you link with this will, imagine that your logical, concrete, everyday mind and thoughts are becoming infused with clear, illumined thoughts about any area you think of. The goal of this is concrete knowledge, to "know" the way. With exact knowledge, scientific and clear investigation into the nature of the problem, and through clear thinking, you can lift out of the emotional plane and eliminate doubt, ambiguity, and confusion. This is the Will that works with your mind to assist you in thinking with clear objectivity, with detachment, and with accuracy and precision. This is the Will that develops a mind that can find answers through investigating and researching a problem. Use this will to develop the powers of your intellect and mind to KNOW.

Direct the Will to Act to areas of your life where you feel stuck, trapped, or tied to the past. Focus this quality of Will onto those areas of your life where you want to liberate or free yourself from old patterns, from forms that no longer serve you, and anytime you want to liberate your spirit from the bonds of the world of form. Then, use your mind to form clear thoughts, analyze why you feel stuck, and let new thoughts and insights come to you about the nature of the problem, and what actions you can take.

Direct the Will to Act to areas where you feel unable to go forward because of uncertainty, doubt, lack of a clear direction, or an inability to “see” or to know what to do. This can be as simple as an action you need to take with someone, or as challenging as knowing more about your life purpose and what your next steps are. Take time to rationally look at the situation, and to let thoughts come to you about how you can act and what you can do to gain clarity, certainty, and clear direction.

This is the Will that illumines your mind so that you can bring in knowledge, and see clearly what to do. Knowledge is light! Imagine your mind is being flooded with light so that you can think clearly and find solutions to whatever area you need clarity and direction in. Record the thoughts and the resulting actions that come to you to take. These will be the actions that will liberate your spirit and bring you a sense of aliveness. These will be the actions that will assist you in acting in ways that are in alignment with the Divine Plan of your life, even if you do not know exactly what that plan is.

As you link your logical mind with your abstract, higher mind, your mind can fulfill its purpose of being a channel for the pure inflow of higher mind energy. In this light you can learn how to see and symbolically stand in “God’s pure light” that releases illusions and reveals truth. Your personality can then become a pure channel for Divine Will through your mind.

An illumined mind creates complete thoughts, thoughts that show you answers and solutions, and that reveal your path and next steps. Your mind is fluid; thoughts flow one into another without getting stuck. Your thoughts do not get entangled in your emotions; going around in circles, but lead you into the light of clear thinking. You have new thoughts, expanding thoughts, and thoughts that are loving and kind both toward yourself and others. You begin to see and release beliefs about the nature of reality that have held you back, and liberate yourself through your mind from the illusions that keep you from knowing truth.

With the Will to Evolve, the third quality of will, you are developing your ability to think abstractly, in wholes, seeing the larger picture, and relating various aspects of the whole to each other. The Will to Act develops the concrete mind in its ability to analyze, think, explain, differentiate, and find concrete knowledge. The ability to think in this way allows correct action to be known and then to be taken. Today, as regards humanity, the highest expression of the Will to Act is liberation of spirit from form—through ascension, initiation, or death.

The Will to Cause: Embodying High Ideals

The quality of Divine Will this Being emanates causes thoughts to form based on ideals, and is related to the creative urge. This is the Will which provides the motivation which is the underlying cause of action and thoughts. It has trained humanity to recognize ideals, to ardently desire those ideals—the good, the true, and the beautiful—and to seek to manifest the forms which embody these ideals. This energy has greatly hastened the evolutionary process and created great world ideologies. It has brought in the ideas of individual sacrifice and service.

This quality of Divine Will has been and continues to be a major influence on humanity, although its influence is being replaced by the influence of the Will to Unify. Both the

Will to Unify and the Will to Cause inspire vision. The vision of the Will to Unify is based on the recognition of what is to be loved and the seeing of the larger whole, while the vision of the Will to Cause comes out of the ideals of your soul and how these may be brought about. Your ideals are the underlying motivation that cause you to act in every area of your life.

This aspect of Divine Will can transform your personality desires into the desire to carry out your soul's will. It is important to examine the ideals you are living by to learn if they are ideals that embody Divine ideas or if they are personality ideals. Knowing and expressing Divine ideals brings you love, freedom, and enlightenment.

As you work with this Will, take time to examine the underlying ideal you are serving in any area of your life that is not working as well as you would like. What is your motivation for creating what you have created? An example of personality ideals is striving to live and act out some image you have of a spiritual person, (being good all the time, and criticizing yourself when you are not perfect) spiritual ambition, (pushing yourself to grow and feeling exhausted, growing faster than is comfortable for you) or things such as trying to make everyone happy, to be a perfect person, to always be strong, to be in control, or to gain popularity or fame. Actions that are motivated by fear, guilt, obligation, or the desire to avoid pain may lead to suffering, for these are personality motivations and not soul goals.

Working with this quality of Will can bring up emotions, for as your personality ideals are replaced with your soul's ideals, what you are attached to may come up for you to look at and release. You may be challenged to let go of old patterns, thoughts, and feelings that do not serve you. Sometimes there can be a feeling of loss, even when the beliefs and ideals that are leaving caused you pain. As you become infused with your soul's ideals, what motivates you will change, and your goals may change as well. You will lose interest in some of the paths you are following, and gain more interest in others. What you create will then bring you true joy and will make a contribution to others.

Some of the qualities of this Will include intense devotion. It is important to be devoted to the right people, ideals, and things. Become devoted to living the ideals of your soul--loving others, serving, radiating light, having joy, peace, and so on. Observe what you are devoted to, and ask yourself if these things are leading to more light in your life. Devotion leads to self-sacrifice; it is important to examine what ideals you are sacrificing yourself to. For instance, doing things out of a sense of guilt, duty, obligation, and so on is sacrificing yourself to personality ideals, rather than your soul's ideals. Your soul does not want you to suffer! It doesn't ask for you to give up your aliveness for anyone or anything.

Use this Will to strengthen your ability to become devoted to and loyal to your soul and its goals, to doing what is good for you, and to following your heart.

Let the good qualities of this Will infuse your life—the ability to hold a one-pointed focus, detachment, endurance, fearlessness, optimism, purity, and devotion to higher goals and ideals.

The Will to Express: Creating Divinity in Form

The quality of Divine Will transmitted by this Great One creates the manifestation of form. There is a necessity of the divine nature to express itself, and it wants to manifest in an orderly, rhythmic manner, to embrace "that which is above and that which is below" and, through this activity, to produce beauty, order, perfect wholes, and right relationships. This is the Being whose work is to bring manifestation on the physical plane through the command of the forces. These include the building devas and many other forces and beings who help bring about manifestation on the physical plane. This Great One makes the work of the other six Great Ones transmitting Divine Will appear on the physical plane.

This is the Will that is bringing in the New Age of peace, goodwill, and brotherhood. It is just now coming into influence and its effects can be felt in many ways. The Will to Express (Divinity) inspires humanity to accept and include unity in diversity—tolerating a wide range of ideals, beliefs, and religions.

While the sixth Will influence has brought to humanity individual ideals, the seventh Will brings the ideal of group service and group work. You can see the influence of the Will in the worldwide peace meditations where many people have joined together to meditate for world peace and for the creation of a better world.

This is the Will that blends spirit and matter. Matter has certain qualities, such as inertia, resistance to light and change, and a downward pull away from spiritual evolution. The influence of spirit is the unavoidable urge to evolve, to grow, and to become radiant with light. Spirit brings the impulse that keeps you from standing still or going backward—both to your benefit if you flow with it and to your pain if you resist its pull of higher evolution. It is this conflict between spirit and matter that causes much of the inner struggle between the part of you that wants to move forward, and the part of you that wants to stay as you are.

The Will to Express brings the power to refine the matter out of which forms are built. Under the influence of this Will, the human body is being refined so that the soul will have a much better instrument through which it can work. This refinement is happening at the etheric level—the blueprint upon which the physical body is created. The etheric body (your aura) is composed of chakras, nadis, and spiritual, mental, and emotional energies from the soul that come in through the chakras. Certain devas and angelic beings will be stimulated under this Will to help humanity build bodies that will be more responsive to spiritual energies, have more physical energy, and be more resistance to disease.

As the matter of the body becomes more refined, extra sensory abilities appear—the ability to see auras; to develop precognition, and to recognize the unseen worlds of the higher dimensions. The more refined human body will have great strength and resilience, a sensitivity to subtle energies, the capacity to absorb solar energy, and physical magnetism.

This Will assists you in building a bridge to spirit and to the higher parts of yourself, but also brings the impetus to work with matter to create forms that embody spirit. Manifesting is not done through wishing and dreaming, but through planning, organizing, and through taking those practical, common sense steps that are indicated, with a clear mind (Will to Act) and through the power of pure motives (Will to Cause). Results are brought about by organizing energy—including among people and among all the various elements involved.

The highest expression of this Will is organization. Well-organized structures last a long time. All the elements are balanced; the individual people and parts are honored and their relationships to each other support the orderly functioning of the whole. This is the Will of well-organized group work. Work with this Will quality to organize your job, family life, or creative endeavors; to balance all the elements; and to create beauty and long-lasting forms that express their underlying purpose.

This Will brings about beautiful forms through precision in manifesting. Care is taken with the smallest details, and attention is paid to making sure that all the parts fit in well with each other and with the whole. Notice more about something you are in the process of manifesting. Take care to create this and everything in your life with as much awareness, care, precision, focus, patience, and love that you can bring to it. Take one thing you are working on, direct this Will to it, and observe how you can bring about an even more beautiful form than you originally imagined. Learn to work intelligently and lovingly with substance and matter.

Aspects of the Will to Express: brings strength, perseverance, courage, self-reliance, steadfastness, care in details, and precision in creating form.

Summary of Working with Divine Will

As you work with Divine Will, you are planting seeds that you can harvest for years to come. Opportunities will come to you, new paths will open up, and your consciousness will continue to expand. Divine Will will lovingly and gently nudge you in certain directions and make you more magnetic to abundance and your higher good. You may not even associate these opportunities and changes with the work you are doing now.

Do not worry if you can't see any outer world changes in your life right away. This is the seed planting time; this is the work to lay the foundation for a shift to a more soul-infused life. You do not need to figure your whole life out right now, or create all your dreams in just a few days or weeks! Calling Divine Will into your life will infuse you with spiritual energy for years to come. Changes will occur in any area of your life you focus Divine Will on, for Divine Will transforms whatever it is transmitted to. However, you can never know what those changes will be, when they will come, or the form they will appear in. The changes that do come about will always bring your life closer to the "Divine Blueprint" and the path of higher evolution for your life.

Do not expect that you will be "taken over" by Divine Will, and that suddenly everything will work in your life without your needing to do anything. You live on a planet of free will, and part of the teaching that is offered is learning how to choose those things that are for your higher good. You are the one who must take action and carry out the inner directions that are emerging. As you draw in Divine Will, it will become easier to see what you need to do, and energy comes with it to assist you in carrying out the actions that seem indicated.

Policies for Sharing Orin's Audio Journeys and Teaching Orin Courses

Sharing Orin's journeys

1. You may play your downloaded Orin journeys for others who are able to listen through using the device (such as your computer or audio player) that you have your download audio journeys on. If you own the tapes or CDs of this course, you may lend your original copy to others to listen to. This policy is intended to allow you to share your course with a few people such as special friends or loved ones who you know well and who you think will benefit from learning these skills.

2. Do not duplicate, copy, or transfer any LuminEssence audio recordings onto any format, including tapes, CDs, DVDs, audio listening devices, digital media, file sharing programs, or through the Internet or any other medium or method except for your own personal use, as they are copyrighted.

3. You are not authorized to record any LuminEssence journeys in your own voice for commercial resale or to copy any audio journeys onto any media for commercial sale.

4. Do not share any Orin journeys by making them available in any format on the Internet. Once the audio journeys are available via the Internet it is very easy for others to find them and to post them on other sites.

5. Please do not advertise that you are renting out, charging for, or sharing Orin's audio journeys via the Internet or any other medium for a fee or for free as this was never our original intention in allowing people to share their physical courses with a few friends when the courses were available in tape and/or CD format. This includes but is not limited to any broadcast or podcast of the journeys.

Sharing Orin's journeys in a live class setting

You can visit our website for more information on teaching classes based on this material.

In addition to the above policies for sharing your LuminEssence audio journeys, please note these policies for holding live classes:

1. You may play your Orin journeys in a live class setting with the members attending in person. You may not play or post these Orin journeys online for classes conducted through the Internet.

2. You may not make copies of your Orin journeys for students; each class member who wants these Orin journeys will need to purchase and own their own course.

Teaching by leading your own journeys based on this course

1. You may record and make copies of your own live seminars based on Orin's material for students who attend your classes. You may not make your seminar recordings available commercially. You may not post them on the Internet unless they are password protected and only for members who attended your class. Please make sure you have worked with these journeys a number of times and have experience with the skills taught.

2. You may not make a set of your audio journeys based on this course in advance that you make available to all your classes (instead of making live class recordings for each class, based just on that class). To pre-record your journeys, you would need to have signed agreements with LuminEssence to produce and sell albums as the official set in your language.

Our policies are designed to support people who are drawn to this course in being successful in learning what is being taught. We have repeatedly found that when people do not purchase or make an investment in the course, they usually do not value the course enough to finish it. Know that when people are ready for the course, their soul, higher self, guides, and the Divine within will provide them with all the resources they need to take this course.

We have evolved our policies after much thought, reflection, and experience based on today's technology. These policies may evolve and change as future technologies are developed. Please know that your support and willingness to purchase the audio journeys from LuminEssence makes it possible to keep this work available and to allow for new work to be created. Please visit our website for additional and/or updated information about these policies. We thank you for your integrity and your support of Orin's work by not sharing or teaching these journeys except as noted.

You may use any of Thaddeus' music for your classes and for your audio recordings, royalty free, as our gift to you. Please go online for our terms and agreements about using Thaddeus' music.

Program 1 Becoming Your Soul

Greetings from Orin. In this course you will work with the seven qualities of Will and transmit Them in various ways to transform certain areas of your life so you can live a soul life.

Divine Will is a powerful force. Its energy will change and make more beautiful anything It is transmitted to. It is a force that is unbendable and unstoppable. It takes lesser patterns and makes them into greater patterns of more beauty, harmony, and order.

As you work with Divine Will you are working with one of the most powerful forces in the universe—a force that can change your life for the better, that can expand your consciousness, that can bring you into alignment with your soul, and that you can work with to create a life of joy, love, and abundance.

In this journey you will strengthen the contact you have with your soul, so that you can sense yourself as a soul more often, become aware of yourself as a soul, and act as your soul, feel as your soul, and embody some of the light of your soul more and more often.

Start by breathing in, imagining that you are breathing in light, lifting higher with each breath in, feeling yourself coming together at a deep level. You are surrounded with light, and you feel the light of your soul enhancing all the light about you.

As you join with your soul now, you are letting its power and strength, its beauty and light pour into you. Expand into your soul. It is as if all limitations are falling away. All the places where your energy has been contained are expanding into the light of your soul. You are moving into your soul with intention—the intention to become your soul and to strengthen soul contact.

Sense yourself lifting up, going higher and higher into a world of light, moving into the soul plane.

Sense all the souls around you who are joining you.

Notice the presence of the Enlightened Ones.

Become aware of the great light of the Spiritual Sun above you.

Now become aware of the seven stars that are transmitting the qualities of Divine Will to humanity, feeling all of them.

You are going to work with each quality of Divine Will to strengthen your soul contact, your ability to know your soul, to feel your soul, and to become your soul.

Start by thinking of the Will to Initiate. It is as if that star is lighting up now, and you are opening to receive Its transmissions. You are asking for and connecting with the Being who is transmitting the Will to Initiate. Draw in this Will that releases all obstacles that stand in the way of your becoming your soul, the Will that initiates new consciousness.

Open to receive new realizations, to receive the consciousness of your soul. Let this Will assist you. This is the Will that initiates the true activity of your soul in accordance with the divine plan and purpose of your life.

Draw in this Will that shows you the most effective, shortest path to your goal of becoming your soul. This is the Will that moves energy, that initiates the new, that brings with it courage and strength and fearlessness. Draw It in now. Bring It to you with your intention. Transmit It to your intention to have soul awareness and soul contact—to know yourself as soul.

Now sense another star in the Great Bear, the big dipper, coming into your awareness—the Will to Unify. Connect with this quality of Will, letting it pour into you, into your heart center, and into your soul. This is the energy that unifies you with your soul, with your higher self; that unifies all the parts of your personality with the higher parts of your being.

Feel the fusion between your soul and personality. With this blending you gain clear vision. You can see and know through the eyes of your soul your right relationship to other people and to all life. Your ability to know that you are your soul grows stronger as you connect with this quality of Will.

Let the first two streams of Will continue to pour into you. You are going to add a third stream of Will, the Will to Evolve. Let this third quality of Will begin to pour into you, so that you may know and express the creative intelligence of your soul.

Let the Will to Evolve pour into your throat center, awakening communication, awakening your ability to know the plans and purposes of your soul, to evolve your consciousness into full awareness. As you work with this you know yourself as the one life, the life that is neither consciousness nor form, but greater than both. You are awakening to your true self with this quality of Will, letting it pour into you right now.

Now with these three streams of Will pouring into you, open to the fourth quality of Divine Will, the Will to Harmonize that releases limitations. This Will releases the limitations your personality has put on your soul. It releases the limitations that have kept you from knowing that you are your soul.

It is easier to identify your soul desires, to surrender to your soul's will, knowing as you do so your personality will evolve, be strengthened, and acquire new abilities and powers.

You open now to this quality of Will—its balance and the serene acceptance of ups and downs that this Will can give you. You allow your personality to reflect your soul's serenity, confidence, and balance.

With these four streams of Divine Will pouring into you, open now to the fifth quality of Divine Will, the Will to Act that assists you in achieving liberation, that liberates spirit from matter. The Will to Act brings the ability to formulate clear, concise thoughts and to know what to do. It helps create a mind that is illumined with your soul's light and power.

Draw in this fifth quality of Will, and sense your mind becoming illumined with clear thoughts that reflect your soul's thoughts. These are thoughts that bring you liberation. This is an ability to think with objectivity and detachment, to liberate yourself from old personality patterns, and to release uncertainty so that you can think as your soul.

Feel your mind and your thoughts becoming illumined with the power of your soul, so that you can know your soul through your thoughts, which now reflect your soul's light. Let this stream of light of Divine Will come into your mind and into the cells of your brain.

Think now of the sixth quality of Divine Will, the Will to Cause. Using this Will, draw it into your Ajna center between your eyebrows, so that you can see your motivation. This is the Will that transforms personality motivation into your soul's motivation. It can strengthen your desire to carry out the ideals of your soul, to create more beauty, love, harmony, and light in the world.

Let yourself absorb this Will, letting its light be transmitted into your soul and then into your personality, so that your personality may blend with your soul and know and carry out the ideals of your soul. As it does this you gain the power to release personality ideals.

Draw in this Will's quality of optimism and devotion to strengthen your devotion to creating a soul life, to become devoted to your soul and its goals—the Will that causes you to feel and to act as your soul.

Now bring in now the seventh quality of Will, the Will to Express. Let it come down to the top of your head, from the great star. This high consciousness of Divine Will is pouring into you, traveling from the top of your head all the way down to the base of your spine. This Will is pouring its light into your soul; helping to blend your soul with your personality until there is no distinction.

The inertia of the personality, the desire to stay at rest, to stay the same, is expanding now with this Will, into the movement and flow and expansion of your soul. You are being lifted and drawn upward.

As you work with this quality of Divine Will, the power and strength of your soul to draw you upward, to blend with your personality, is growing stronger. Your soul is gaining a greater ability to create movement and growth, and to express itself in your life. As you work with this quality of Will, your personality is surrendering to your soul and becoming more beautiful in every way as it does.

Feel all seven qualities of Will pour into you. You are going to come back into the room with an awareness of yourself as a soul, a new awareness. Feel the sparkling seeds of Divine Will drawing you closer to your soul, blending your personality and soul into one unified being. Let that happen easily and naturally.

Come back now, feeling revitalized and refreshed, clear and full of light. And I bid you good day for now.

Program 2 Awakening Divine Love

Orin: Greetings. I send love from my heart to yours, and greet you with a transmission of radiant love. In this journey you are going to work with Divine Will to awaken your heart center and to express soul love in your life.

Begin by taking a deep breath in. Breathe in to your upper chest, letting your chest expand with your breath. As it does, it is as if you are creating more space for an awakened heart center.

Call your soul to you right now. Or, simply imagine that you are expanding into your soul just by thinking of it, as if you are growing larger, as if an angelic presence is with you. Fill up with light—beautiful, radiant light. Feel your soul's energy pour into your heart center.

You might imagine your heart center as a jewel of light surrounded by petals that open as your heart center awakens. This jewel is radiant, magnetic, and it is able to transmit Divine Love. Divine Love is an aspect of Divine Will. Sense your heart center as it is now, and later you will sense your heart center as it opens and awakens with Divine Will.

With your soul all around you and its beautiful love with you, imagine that you are lifting upward, sensing the great light of the Spiritual Sun above you. As you sense this light, let it pour into you, transforming you at many levels. Then sense the seven stars of the big dipper in the constellation of the Great Bear transmitting Divine Will.

The energy from the first star is lighting up, the Will to Initiate. You can feel Its very special light. A beam of Its light is traveling to you now, down through the top of your head to your heart center. This is the power to transform, the Will to initiate an awakening of a new consciousness of love. Feel the power of this Will awakening your heart center, initiating the new, destroying all limitations and barriers, and releasing anything that stands in your way.

The pure, raw power of this Will, and your intention to awaken your heart center, directs this Will into your heart center to light that jewel in the center, that spark of Divine Love. This Will is like an electrical power that creates a field of love coming out of the jewel in your heart center. Out of this awakening comes new consciousness, revelations, insights, and understandings about how to love. A divine spark has come to initiate new consciousness—the consciousness of Divine Love.

Connect now with the second quality of Will, the Will to Unify, the Will of Divine Love.

Connect with this Will to bring about beauty and right relationships. Draw It in to recognize divinity within others, and through your vision of their divinity, to help them bring it about.

Feel yourself becoming magnetic as you bring in a stream of Divine Love from the second Being into your heart center. Feel its gentle, soft love—a love that is kind, compassionate, and forgiving—a love that knows what to love, and how to love in the highest way. Draw in this love that brings together your personality and soul, a love that makes all things whole.

As this quality of Divine Will pours into your heart center, your heart center is growing radiant and magnetic. Unconditional love pours out of you, a love that needs nothing in return, and gives generously of its love.

You are increasing your love that is magnetic to all that is good and beautiful; a love that brings even more love back to you, and amplifies all the love that is there. Sense the impact of this quality of Will in your heart center. Your heart center is growing so radiant and magnetic.

You are going to connect now with the third aspect of Divine Will, the Will to Evolve, drawing this quality of Will to you simply by your intention to do so. Let a stream of light pour from this star into you, into your heart center. It is almost as if you can watch your heart center evolve, the petals unfold, and the consciousness of love grow stronger.

The love radiating from your heart center reaches up into your throat center. The words you speak are words that bring together, that communicate love, wisdom, and compassion. You express Divine Love in your life, and you now see ways to expand your expression of Divine Love.

Now focus on the fourth quality of Will, the Will to Harmonize. Bring this Will into your heart center. Imagine that a stream of light from the Being who is transmitting the Will to Harmonize is coming directly into your heart center, touching the jewel in the middle and the petals all around the jewel.

This is the Will that releases limitations, so that all that has limited you from expressing love is being dissolved, and your heart center is awakening even more.

The petals that surround the jewel are opening, for anything that has limited them is being released. Places where there is pain, feelings of being unloved, are being released.

There is a serene acceptance of the ups and downs. There is harmony between yourself and others. There is the ability to create beauty through the expression of love—to make everything that is touched with your love more beautiful. Let this harmony come into your heart center.

At that moment when there is complete harmony between your soul, your heart, your higher self, and Divine Love, it is as if there is an opening, and a new and even more powerful stream of Divine Love enters your heart center. You can feel its reverberations. Your love is growing even more beautiful and more harmonious. You have a radiant aura of love.

Connect now with the fifth stream of energy coming from Divine Will, the Will to Act, to let your thoughts reflect the love of your heart, to achieve liberation through love.

Imagine you are standing in God's pure light. Your heart center is becoming even more radiant, and your thoughts are clearer and purer and shimmering with your soul's love.

Now connect with the sixth quality of Will, the Will to Cause. Let this stream into your heart center. Feel this energy as it brings you a heart center that is devoted to the ideals of your soul, to expressing love, to releasing personality desires, and to being filled with your soul's desires for your life.

Let this quality of Will transform your desires into your soul's desires, into your soul's motivations that will cause you to act as your soul and to love as you soul, to express soul love. Let this energy permeate your being, transforming personality love into soul love, releasing attachments, and deepening your ability to surrender to love.

Imagine what it would be like if the motive for every action you took was to express Divine Love in all of its forms, such as compassion, forgiveness, and a magnetic love that blends opposites and brings peace and harmony.

Now open to the seventh quality of Will, the Will to Express, to express love with your actions, to express love in the world you live in, and to transmit love, the energy of an awakened heart center, to all your relationships.

Let this quality of Will flow into your heart center, so that your heart center may awaken, may express itself as an awakened heart center in your daily life. Your heart center will awaken in a rhythmic, orderly way. Feel this pulsating, rhythmic opening.

Your heart center is like a flower that is blooming, sending out a beautiful fragrance.

Your heart center is sending forth a beautiful sound that brings out the best in others.

Your heart center is sending out a magnetic light that helps draw all life closer to its source.

Look at your heart center with your inner eyes, imagining all seven qualities of Divine Will pouring into it.

The jewel in the middle of your heart center is beautiful and radiant, creating a magnetic aura of love all around you. You are becoming magnetic to all that is good and beautiful. Your heart center is more open now, and it will continue to open. Every day you will have a new experience of love. You will have a sense that Divine Love is flowing through you.

Let your awakened heart center take on an even greater beauty, evolving to its next level. You are radiating love all about you now. You are sending love in waves out to the universe, to all humanity, and to all other kingdoms—to animals, plants, and minerals, and to the earth itself.

You are transmitting Divine Love to all life through your own awakening heart center.

When you are ready, come back easily, feeling full of love, feeling serene and balanced and whole within. And I bid you good day for now.

Program 3 Strengthening Self-Love

Greetings from Orin. Feel yourself growing very relaxed, putting your body in a comfortable position. Adjust your legs and your feet so that they are comfortable right now. Sense your arms and your hands. Put them in a position where they are relaxed. Sense your spine and your torso, and adjust it so that your posture allows you to breathe freely and easily, and to feel relaxed.

Relax your shoulders and your neck. Release and relax the muscles around your eyes and your jaw. Notice what it feels like to have peace in your body. Take a deep breath in and slow down, pay attention to yourself, note how you feel, and bring your awareness inward.

In this journey you are going to work with Divine Will to increase self-love. One of the ways you can love yourself is by paying attention to your body, relaxing it, and allowing yourself to feel peaceful.

As you breathe in, expand into the light of your soul, recognizing yourself as a soul. Take a moment to notice how beautiful you are as a soul. You have a bright, beautiful, radiant soul. You are unique, one of a kind, and you have many special gifts that are uniquely yours to offer to the world.

Self-love is honoring the self, the wisdom within you. It is honoring your path, your light, and your gifts.

As you relax and fill up with the light of your soul, imagine that you are traveling into the soul plane.

Many souls are around you—all those who are journeying with you, all those souls who are working with Divine Will—past, present, and future.

You notice the beautiful, radiant light of the Central Spiritual Sun, a light that joins you together in oneness, and yet highlights the beauty of your individuality.

Sense the seven stars of the big dipper. You are going to connect with the first star of the big dipper that is transmitting the Will to Initiate, calling upon it now, and feeling this Being respond with a surge of electrical, powerful energy. Receive this energy.

You are going to transmit the Will to Initiate to the concept of self-love, initiating new consciousness, new awareness, on how to nurture and love yourself. Fill up with strength and courage—the courage to be yourself, to trust your inner wisdom, to take care of yourself, to get the rest, peace, rhythm, food, and everything else that you need.

You now give to yourself nourishment for your soul, for your personality and for your body, so that you are strong and radiant. Let this quality of Will come into you now.

The power of this Will releases all obstacles that would hinder you or stop you from loving yourself. Fill up now with the power of this Will to transform, to change, to awaken new consciousness and a deeper level of awareness about yourself. Let this Will increase your self-esteem and self-worth, increase your knowing that you are a beautiful, wonderful, and unique soul, doing the best you know how.

You are now going to receive energy from the Being who is transmitting the beautiful, loving, soft energy of the Will to Unify. Receive this energy into your soul. Your soul is growing radiant.

Imagine that all your subpersonalities, all the parts of yourself, are coming together, being guided by your higher self and soul. All the subpersonalities and parts of yourself are now being guided by your soul into a higher pattern. They are coming together in a way that supports you in your path, in fulfilling your dreams, and in knowing your value and worth.

All of the parts of your personality are coming under the guidance of your soul and higher self. Every part of you supports you, believes in you, and is receiving now the Will to Unify, to be at one with your higher self and soul.

This Will awakens your vision of who you are as a soul. Your ability to appreciate and acknowledge yourself is growing. All the parts of you are working together to carry out your soul's goals and vision for your life.

Draw in now the third quality of Will, the Will to Evolve. This is the creative Will that brings an ability to formulate a plan, to sense what needs to be done, and to see the creative action that can be taken in any situation.

As you draw in this Will, there is a part of you that is awakening—your creative self, the self that will find creative new ways to love and honor you. You are evolving your consciousness as to what you need and how to nurture and care for yourself.

You will gain more and more awareness with this Will, more consciousness of the ways in which you can honor yourself, your soul, and your path. Fill up with this quality of Will that evolves your consciousness, and evolves your ability to create the forms that honor you. Transmit this quality of Will to your life to increase self-love, self-esteem, self-confidence, and self-worth. The ability to honor who you are is increasing.

Now link with the fourth quality of Will, the Being who is transmitting the Will to Harmonize. Fill up with this Will that releases conflict and limitation, that helps you move past the resistance you have had to loving and honoring yourself. You love yourself and honor your life. You create beauty around you. You allow yourself to have a life that works for you.

You find the serene middle path, the winning solution for all concerned. You blend all the parts of your being and surrender to your higher self and soul. You receive back from your soul all the gifts it has to offer, gifts that strengthen your personality and bring it new powers and skills. You honor and love yourself by honoring your higher self and soul, harmonizing with them, and receiving their light and love.

Imagine that you are drawing in now the Will to Act. The action is to have clear and loving thoughts of yourself—thoughts that empower you, that honor you, and that show you your beauty and your strength.

Let a stream of light from this quality of Will pour into you, into your mind, and into your thoughts. You now have clear thoughts about what to do moment-to-moment that honor your true self. You have thoughts that guide you to right action. The thoughts that come from your higher self and soul are clear; you recognize those thoughts that are sent to guide you.

Open your mind now and receive the Will to Act. Feel the power, the strength, and the love of this Being. You have a clear mind, a mind that is connected to the Universal Mind, to the mind of God. Open your mind. Expand your thinking. Allow yourself to be more than you have ever imagined as you follow your path, as you honor and respect yourself with your thoughts and in all that you do.

Draw in the Will to Cause. Let your personality desires transform into your soul's desires. Love yourself by being willing to create the highest you can imagine in your life.

You release any beliefs and thoughts to do not honor you. Let this Will pour through you now, energizing the thoughts and ideals of your soul, your aspirations and goals, your love and motivation. You are releasing all motivation and goals that are not for your higher good, and opening to those that are.

Open to the Will to Express that brings into manifestation all the other Wills so that you can express self-love in all that you do, in your words and actions, and in the way you care for yourself.

Working with Divine Will is an act of self-love. Valuing your spiritual growth is an act of self-love as is following your inner guidance with action. Let this Will help you manifest and bring about a higher level of self care, self nurturing, awareness of your soul and path, trusting in your own inner guidance, and a greater sense of who you are.

When you are ready, come back. You will think of things you can do today and tomorrow that are loving to you, that honor you. And I bid you good day for now.

Program 4 Transforming Your Emotions

Greetings from Orin. In this journey you will work with the seven qualities of Divine Will to transform your emotional body, to create flowing emotions, to love your emotions, and to evolve them.

Begin by taking a deep breath in, using your breath to calm and relax your body. You are breathing in and breathing out very evenly, very calmly. Let your breath become a little slower and a little deeper.

Bring a little more breath into your upper chest without moving your belly, expanding your upper chest and the area around your heart center.

Then bring your breath into your belly, letting it rise and fall.

Notice your breathing and how you can use your breathing to calm and relax yourself, to get into a state of flow and peace. A transformed emotional body is one of great inner peace and serenity, no matter what is happening around you. Your emotions are calm, your mind is clear, and you can reflect and sense the light of your soul through these calm, pure emotions. There is a sense of self, of the true self.

As you blend with your soul now, sense yourself as if you are your soul. Feel the light and presence that you emit as a soul.

Begin to sense the soul plane, for as a soul you are familiar with this place. Feel the souls of everyone around you who are joining you now to work with Divine Will to transform their emotional bodies. Look around and see how many souls there are who are working as you are in this way.

Now focus upward, sensing the great light of the Central Spiritual Sun, letting it warm you as a soul. You can sense your personality, and it too is warmed in the rays of this great light. Your personality is elevated and brought to a higher vibration just by your thinking of this great light.

You are going to draw in Divine Will and transmit it to your emotions and to your emotional body, to purify it and to turn it into a field of love. Pay attention now to the seven stars of the Great Bear. In your mind's eye sense these stars and the power and energy and light being transmitted from them.

Observe as a stream of light comes to you now from the Will to Initiate. This is the Will that can bring about new awareness of your emotions and how to work with them to transform them into flowing emotions, peaceful emotions—feelings of love, serenity, compassion for self and others.

Draw in this quality of Will. It is beginning to purify your emotional body, releasing lower energies—energies you have taken on from others, energies that do not fit the light that you are now.

The light around you is growing. Your soul is working with you, receiving Divine Will and transmitting it to your emotions and to your emotional body. Divine Will is flowing into your heart center, lifting the energies from your solar plexus center up into your heart center. You are surrendering to love.

This fiery Will of purification is burning away the lower energies until there is nothing left but light, beauty, and radiance. Imagine that your emotional body is like a field of light and energy that surrounds you.

See it now purified, cleansed, and brought into a greater alignment with Divine Will.

You now draw in the second quality of Divine Will, the Will to Unify. Feel the loving, pulsating waves of the Will to Unify coming from the Great Being who is working to transmit this quality to humanity. Absorb these qualities of love and unity—the love that dissolves barriers. As you experience this unity, your emotional body gains clarity and beauty, and becomes even more radiant with love and serene inner peace. You are unifying your soul and your personality.

Feel your soul's emotions of peace, joy, and love. Your emotions are infused with the love of this Will and with the love of your soul. This Will assists you in unifying all the parts of your being so that the light of your mind and the light of your soul can transform your emotional body.

Draw in the third quality of Will, the Will to Evolve your emotional body, to bring it to its next level of evolution. This is the Will that evolves your emotions and your consciousness. This Will stimulates the use of your creative mind to evolve your emotions.

Now focus upon, connect with, and draw in the Will to Harmonize, to release limitations and struggle and resistance, and to find the middle way between the highs and the lows, and the ups and the downs.

This is one of the most important qualities of Will to assist you in transforming your emotional body, to achieve that balance between the dualities of feeling up and feeling down, of feeling good and feeling bad.

Let the duality of emotions come together into a peaceful, serene feeling—a calm acceptance of the ups and downs, an ability to stay detached, to observe your emotions, and to know that you are not your emotions. You are a greater self. Let this quality of Will flow into you and into your emotional body to create a serene, balanced emotional body.

Release the need for conflict, using this Will to release pain and drama. Feel the Will to Harmonize bringing you the serenity and peace of your soul's love. Use this Will whenever you want to find the peaceful middle way, to pull out of one side or another of a duality. Use it to bring you the ability to observe and detach from your emotions so that they can flow.

Bring in the fifth quality of Will, the Will to Act. Let It pour into your mind now, so that you can think clearly, can stay detached and in observation about your emotions. It is your illumined mind that transcends emotions.

Let the brilliant light of your mind, energized with the Will to Act, begin to dissipate negative emotions, fear-based emotions such as doubts, pride, and separative feelings, and feelings that make you feel bad about yourself.

Imagine that the light of your mind, illumined with your soul's light, is so bright that the fogs and mists of your emotions are dissipating. Just as the sun dissipates the fog, the light of your mind illumined by the Will to Act is beginning to dissipate the fog of your emotions.

You can call upon the sixth quality of Will, the Will to Cause, to increase your ability to express your soul's feelings—to know your soul's joy, love, peace, strength, will, to desire the things of your soul, and to release your personality desires. This Will assists you in detaching and observing with a calm, clear mind.

Let this Will come into your sixth chakra, your center of vision, located between your eyebrows. This and the second quality of Will, the Will to Unify, are pouring into you now, showing you a vision of a flowing, clear, evolved emotional body.

You now call upon the Will to Express so that you can express this new emotional body in your daily life, feel serenity, and express love. You are no longer being affected by the emotions of others, but responding instead from your calm, clear center. The energies around you are growing more and more beautiful, filled with radiant light.

As you work with this seventh quality of Will, as It streams down into you, with it comes many angelic beings, beings who are helping you to purify your emotional body, to refine your emotions. Let them come in now. Some are the color of rose, of love. Others are the color of green and rejuvenation, bringing you new life.

Next bring in the gold and white angels. They pour their light into you, healing you and lifting you up. Feel their love.

You are opening to receive and allowing serenity to penetrate every level of your being. Inner peace is yours as you transform your emotional body.

When you are ready, come back into the room, feeling a new sense of calm and peace. You have emotions that are flowing, and an ability to observe yourself at a new level. I bid you good day for now.

Program 5 Illuminating Your Mind

Greetings from Orin. In this journey you will call Divine Will to you to transform your thoughts and your mind, to have clear, illumined thoughts, to lift the veils of illusion, and to release beliefs that do not serve you.

While all seven qualities of Will can assist you, to work with your emotions your heart, your ability to love, and your vision—the qualities of unification, harmonizing, (two and four and six—the Will to Cause) are important. To transform your mind and your ability to think the thoughts of your soul, the Will to Initiate, to Evolve, and to Act are very important—one, three, and five.

Begin this journey of transforming your thoughts so that they reflect the thoughts and ideas of your soul, by taking a deep breath in. Imagine as you breathe out, you are breathing out any thoughts, any feelings, and any energy you do not want. You are sending them out to the universe to be used as light and energy. Let yourself feel freer, more relaxed, and lighter as you do this.

Call back to yourself any energy you may have left scattered out in the universe—thoughts of others, worries, and concerns. Call all your energy back to you as a usable energy. Call back to yourself all of your energy, becoming more whole and complete within as you do.

Expand into the light of your soul. Feel your soul all around you, its powerful presence, its radiant light, and its aura of love. You are transforming into your soul. Divine Will, when you call it to you, gives you the power of transforming your personality, infusing it with soul's light, and changing its vibration into a higher one, as you have been doing.

You must call Divine Will to you for It to act upon you. Once you call It to you, Divine Will lifts you, expands you, and enhances all the best within you. Divine Will helps you put your life into better order, and brings you greater abundance, an ability to live your life purpose, and more inner peace.

As your soul, expand and move into the soul plane, sensing the souls of others who are joining you, who are working as you are in this way.

The great light of Spiritual Sun is shining down upon you—a white, beautiful, golden light all around you. Feel this light permeating every part of your being.

As you sense the Spiritual Sun, you become aware of the seven Great Ones transmitting Divine Will from an even higher source, focusing it into humanity, into the earth plane.

One star lights up and sends a stream of light into your head center to initiate new consciousness, to release all hindrances to clear mental thinking. This Will is initiating thoughts that are vast, that link you with the Universal Mind, and that reflect its great storehouse of knowledge. Feel your mind expanding, and even more cells in your brain awakening to hold this new light of expanded thought.

The power of this Will is pouring through you, giving you the courage and fearlessness to think in new ways, to expand your thinking, and to initiate new consciousness.

You are working with it to open to receive revelations about the nature of yourself, your soul, and the universe. Feel yourself opening to this new power and strength. New thoughts are coming in. You can pull in thoughts from the Enlightened Ones, thoughts of what is next for you and for humanity. Draw these in with this first quality of Will.

Then connect with the second quality of Will to feel your unity with your soul.

Feel your unity with the souls of others.

Let your vision expand so that you can recognize others who are on the path, and become more aware of the guides and teachers and enlightened ones who are always assisting.

As you unify with your soul, your soul's mind is blending with your mind. Feel the two minds come together, as if your mind, your brain, is awakening, bringing you new powers of thought—clear thoughts, powerful thoughts, and loving thoughts about how you can add light to the world. You now have thoughts that show you the bigger picture of your life, that give you a higher vision of what is possible.

Let the third quality of Will, the Will to Evolve, pour into you now. This links you to the creative intelligence of the universe and of your soul, bringing you an ability to plan, to bring things into form, and to set goals that reflect your soul's goals. This Will allows matter to respond to your mind.

You let go of your personality goals and open your mind to see and to know and to express more of the higher goals for your life that your soul has for you. Your mind and brain will show you what those goals are and help you bring them about.

Focus now on the fourth quality of Will, the Will to Harmonize, to create beauty and peace, to bring harmony wherever there is conflict or struggle. Feel your mind becoming so illumined with this light that your mind is becoming a beacon of light that lights the way through any emotions, through the dualities, and through the ups and downs.

Your mind can now see the way clear. You can find the way of harmony, the way of balance, the winning solution for everyone. Let this quality flow into you, harmonizing all the parts of your being and illuminating your mind so that you can create more harmony and balance in your life by using your illumined mind.

Now connect with the Will to Act, one of the most powerful influences on your thoughts—this and the Will to Evolve. The Will to Evolve awakens your ability to think about the bigger picture, to think in abstract ways. The Will to Act, leading to liberation, assists your mind in thinking about your daily life, about concrete actions to take, thoughts that allow you to see and know truth.

The Solar Angel of the mind is with you, assisting you in making the link between your higher and lower mind, assisting you in building a bridge of light between your two minds, and thus expanding your ability to think and to know the bigger picture.

As you work with the Will to Act, you are gaining the ability to formulate clear mental thoughts about the issues in your life and to have greater certainty about what to do. Your thoughts show you the path of liberation from the bonds of matter. Your thoughts guide you to spirit, guide you to your path of higher evolution, and to your path of great liberation.

Imagine that you are standing in a pure light, God's pure light, the light of the Presence, a light that reveals truth. All illusions and all limiting beliefs are dissolving in this pure light.

Your mind is becoming a channel for Divine Will. Your thoughts show you what steps to take that will lead to your liberation and to your enlightenment.

Now draw in the sixth quality of Will, the Will to Cause, so that you can release illusions, thoughts, and beliefs that do not represent your soul's ideals and beliefs. Let this quality pour through you, into your mind.

You are beginning to form the ideals that motivate you, with clear thoughts, to move toward your soul, toward the light. These are thoughts that guide you to your evolution, which put you on an upward spiral. Your mind is showing you the way. Your mind, illumined with your soul's light and with Divine Will, is a light bearer, lighting the way for you.

All separative thoughts, thoughts that tell you that you aren't good enough, thoughts that hold you back, are leaving. They are being replaced with optimistic, positive thoughts of a wonderful future that you have the power to create.

You bring in the seventh quality of Will, the Will to Express divinity in form. Your mind helps you organize and bring about your soul purposes. You are letting this quality of Will flow into you. Your mind shows you what needs to be built and brought into your life, and what needs to be released.

Let your mind transform. Your thoughts are becoming more beautiful. Your thoughts, your higher thoughts, those enlightened thoughts, brought to you by Divine Will, carried through your soul to you, are now manifesting. You are able to hear them, sense them, and know them. These higher thoughts are coming into your awareness through the Will to Express.

Your thoughts are visible to you. They have come from the highest planes, these enlightened thoughts, these thoughts that carry the energy of Divine Will. They are coming all the way down into your conscious awareness of them, like seeds that are beginning to sprout everywhere—new thoughts that expand you and guide you to your higher path. You are creating an illumined mind.

When you are ready, come back into the room. Feel the radiance of your expanded mind lighting up your path and showing you the way.

And I bid you good day for now.

Program 6 Knowing Your Life Purpose

Greetings from Orin. In this journey you will link with the seven qualities of Divine Will, calling forth Divine Will into your life with your intention to find and create your life purpose. In many ways you are already living your life purpose—growing, expanding, and awakening with all that you do.

We will work with the seven qualities of Divine Will so that you can see more about your life purpose and recognize what activities you can increase or let go of so that you can live the higher purpose of your soul and carry it out with action.

Start by relaxing your body, imagining that you are surrounding yourself with light. As you surround yourself with a golden light, expand into the light of your soul. You are growing larger as you connect with your soul, spanning many dimensions of light.

Each time you blend with your soul you take on more of its light, its power, and its love. You become your soul, and it energizes and infuses you with its love and light every time you connect with it. All you need do is have the intention to connect with your soul and it is there, for your intention calls your soul to you.

Expand into your soul and sense the souls of all those around you on the soul plane.

Above the soul plane is the Central Spiritual Sun, the light of higher purpose. Draw in its light.

Sense the seven stars of the Great Bear that make up the Big Dipper.

Picture all of the souls on the soul plane who are joining you now to link with these Great Beings. With this link you will energize your life purpose so that the activities of your earth life may be in alignment with the activities of your soul, in alignment with the greater universe, and in harmony with all life, so that you may find your special and unique path.

Think now of the first quality of Will. Call upon the Will to Initiate, to initiate new awareness about your life purpose. You are clear in your intention. You are calling on Divine Will to live your life purpose, to know more about it, to expand the vision of your life and why you are here, and to know more about what you are here to do.

This first quality of Will pours strength and power, courage and fearlessness into you now. It brings to you the power that destroys all hindrances. Everything that would stand in your way of living your life purpose is being dissolved by the power of this Will.

Focus now on the second quality of Will. Imagining that the magnetic aura of this Great Being is drawing you to it, to its vibration of unity that leads to vision. You are receiving this wonderful energy now.

Feel your heart opening, all the parts of you coming together under the guidance of your higher self and soul. All the parts of you, all subpersonalities are now working together to create your life purpose under the guidance and direction of your soul.

You are sensing your part in the greater universe. Your vision is expanding. You are seeing more of your path, seeing the larger picture of your life. It is happening in the perfect way and at the perfect time. As you absorb and draw in the Will to Unify, it is awakening your vision of the path of your heart, of your dreams, of those things that you love to do which are your life purpose.

You are awakening your vision and able to see what you love more clearly, and are able to let go of those things that are not on your path, that do not bring you joy. As you work with this Will to Unify, you naturally go towards those activities, careers, and things to do that draw your heart, that give you a feeling of aliveness. You now know what those are.

Imagine that you are connecting with the third quality of Will, the Will to Evolve—the creative intelligence of the Universal Mind; the ability to evolve the forms and your consciousness so that you can plan and use your creative mind to bring about, to manifest, your life purpose.

This quality of Will brings a wealth of ideas and new directions. It is the energy that helps bring about the manifestation of your goals. Let go of what you think your life purpose is for just a moment. Let energy come into you from the Will to Evolve and show you, bring to you, a path that is even better than anything you have imagined—a path that serves humanity, that brings light to the world and joy to your heart. Open to this energy now so that it unfold in your life.

You are now hearing the whispers. New directions are emerging. New forms and new consciousness are rising from within you. Everything is coming together as you work with this Will. You are putting together the elements, bringing them together into a new and more beautiful pattern. All the skills, and play, and things you like to do are coming together and are being expressed in new ways that fulfill your life purpose.

Sense the fourth quality of Will, the Will to Harmonize. You are connecting with this Great One, requesting and receiving the energy of the Will to Harmonize. This is the Will that releases limitation. Any limitations in your vision, in your thoughts, in your self-image are now falling away. You are opening to a new vision of yourself, to a new self-image.

As you connect with this quality of Will you are releasing resistance. You are opening to hear your soul's guidance and direction, paying attention to the whispers. Open now to your intuition, to your inner messages, allowing them to become clearer and more visible to you.

Harmonize with your soul. Feel your personality and your soul become so harmonized that your personality begins to expand, to acquire a new confidence, a new ability to carry out and do the things that represent your soul's goals and purposes for your life.

You are harmonizing with your soul. Your personality is gaining the skill, the power, and the ability to take the next steps, to see the next steps of manifesting your life purpose in form.

Now connect with the fifth quality of Will, the Will to Act. This is the Will that liberates you from the world of form through the actions that you take and the thoughts that you have. Draw in this Will so that as you live your life purpose, you are growing closer to enlightenment, closer to liberation from the illusions and from the mists and fogs that surround humanity that veil God's pure light.

Sense this pure light all around you, God's pure light. Expand into it, as if you are this pure light. And just for a moment, using your imagination, hold the thought of exploring what is the purpose, the higher purpose, of this pure white light of God.

You, as the Presence of light, what is your purpose?

You are taking a powerful step in ascertaining more about your purpose as a personality, as a soul-infused personality simply by having the intention to think of this purpose. Every time you expand into this beautiful light and simply open to sense its purpose, (you will not know for it is beyond the knowledge of the mind), it will open a doorway for you in which more of the purpose and the knowledge of the purpose of your life can flow into your mind.

As you stand in this white light and think of your life purpose, imagine that you now have in your hand a seed of your purpose that you have brought with you from this space.

Think of this seed of your life purpose and connect with the Will to Cause as you do, so that you may know and act from your soul's motivations, and create those things in your life that represent your soul's purpose.

Let this light come into the seed of your purpose and transform it into a symbol that shows you more about your life purpose.

Now connect with and draw in the Will to Express, the energy that brings your life purpose into the world of form through your daily activities.

The expression of your life purpose will come about in a rhythmic, orderly way. The ideas will flow in rhythmically. The impulse to act will flow in rhythmically. You will begin to recognize when these impulses are coming in, and you will act upon them.

You now create forms that embody your soul's light. You create beautiful forms. You have strength, courage, and all that it takes to create heaven on earth, and to do things every day with your life that bring you joy, that serve humanity, that create good all around, and that fulfill your soul's purpose.

As you come back, draw in this Will, or any others as you wish. Continue to work with them. And I bid you good day for now.

Program 7 Increasing Abundance and Prosperity

Greetings from Orin. In this journey you will work with Divine Will to increase prosperity and abundance in your life, for the universe is abundant, and abundance is a quality of your soul. There is an abundance of energy, of light and love in the universe—all that you need.

As you think of Divine Will, ask yourself, "Is it in alignment with Divine Will for me to be abundant and to experience prosperity?"

It is always in alignment with Divine Will that you have abundance, for the universe is abundant and there is enough for everyone to have abundance and prosperity.

Knowing that having abundance is in alignment with Divine Will, you can know that not only are you willing this into your life, but Divine Will is willing this for you as well. Divine Will is working with you. It wants this for your life. All you need do is open to receive this powerful energy, and then act upon and carry out your inner messages to have abundance in your life.

Get very clear in your intention now. You intend to have prosperity and abundance!

Expand into your soul's light, or perhaps you already sense yourself as a soul.

Increase your sense of self as soul, becoming your soul in even more ways each time you think of your soul. The blending with your soul is growing more complete. There is beautiful, radiant light all around you as you sense your soul's radiance.

Sense all the souls who are working as you are to link with Divine Will, to live a soul life, and to transmit love and light to others.

As your soul, sense the great Spiritual Sun and absorb its golden rays. See how abundant this light is—more than you could ever want is there for you. Imagine that you are absorbing and drawing in more of this radiant light than ever before, feeling abundance in a new way—an abundance of light, just the right amount coming into you.

Now sense Divine Will.

You are going to call forth the Will to Initiate, to initiate new consciousness around abundance and prosperity. Let this energy, like an electrical force, descend from these high levels into your soul and into your personality, bringing with it new awareness, and releasing any energies that hide your light, that veil your potential, so that you shine forth as a pure light right now.

Call forth; join with, the Will to Unify, the radiant Being of love who is transmitting this Will. As you blend with your soul under the Will to Unify, as you awaken to your soul's love and its feelings of unity with all life, your heart awakens and you develop a magnetic aura. Your magnetic aura draws all good things to you, and offers love, kindness, and goodness to others.

You are gaining a larger vision, one that shows you what you can do to bring more prosperity into your life. Prosperity will come to you through serving, following your heart, and living your life purpose.

Feel yourself growing more and more magnetic to abundance and prosperity.

Sense your heart center so radiant, so magnetic, that it is going out right now, this radiance, and drawing back to you abundance and prosperity through your love and unity with all life.

Draw in now; connect with the third quality of Will, the Will to Evolve, the Will of the Universal Mind, of creative intelligence. As you get quiet and surrender the plans of your personality to the goals, and dreams, and visions of your soul, abundance comes to you, for your soul is abundant. Affirm that you are learning to surrender your personality patterns so that they may be transformed into greater patterns that bring you more abundance.

Let this creative intelligence move through you, increasing your ability to bring abundance into your life through your creativity, through your creative mind, and through the wealth of ideas that are now flowing through you as you link with this quality of Will.

Open now to the Will to Harmonize, to release limitation, any limitations you have put on yourself. Imagine that they are dissolving in this Will, for your soul is unlimited, creative, and knows how to create unlimited prosperity and abundance.

This Will enhances your ability to express divinity through creating beautiful forms, including art, music, writing, and beauty in all that you create. Open to receive this quality of Divine Will that releases all limitations. Imagine that all limitations are falling away as you open fully to abundance and prosperity.

Call upon now the Will to Act. Let it stream into your mind so that your thoughts lead to liberation.

You can form clear, precise thoughts that lead you to abundance and prosperity, those that not only show you the way to these goals, but also show you how to bring them about in a way that serves your enlightenment and is for the good of all life.

As you connect with the Will to Act, your thoughts and the actions you take can lead to your liberation. Draw in this quality of Will now, letting It light up your mind so that you can see your next steps and your path to these goals more clearly.

Now connect with the sixth quality of Will, the Will to Cause. Stand in the light of this Will as it transmits energy to you, energy that will assist you in creating beliefs that support you in having abundance and prosperity. You know that having this is Divine Will's intention for you, so that it is being willed through you that you have abundance.

Let this Will align your motivation for abundance and prosperity with your soul's motivation. As you link with Divine Will, intend to create abundance and prosperity for the benefit of all, so that you can add more light to the world and to your life. With this intention feel Divine Will working with you to bring you abundance and prosperity.

As you work with this Will, it is assisting you in releasing beliefs that do not serve you in creating abundance. Ask to be shown a belief right now that you need to let go of to create more abundance.

Change that belief into a positive affirmation. Let a new, more positive belief form, and feel Divine Will energizing this belief.

Connect with the seventh quality of Will, the Will to Express. Open to its pulsating, rhythmic motion. Receive Its beautiful, flowing energy, energy that brings heaven to earth, that brings the higher into the lower.

You are the one, through your actions and thoughts, who brings prosperity and abundance into your life once you have called Divine Will to you. You as a soul-infused personality are the one that creates heaven on earth. Let yourself link with this Will, strengthening your ability to manifest and to bring about prosperity and abundance.

As you feel the power and strength of all seven qualities of Will pouring into you, say to yourself, "I will abundance and prosperity into my life." Feel the power of all seven Wills working with you as you say this silently to yourself. You can say this over and over to strengthen your belief and your ability to create abundance and prosperity.

As you come back, let yourself experience abundance today and acknowledge a new level of giving to yourself. Come back easily and gently. And I bid you good day for now.

Program 8 Receiving Clear Inner Guidance

Greetings from Orin. In this journey you will work with the seven qualities of Will to strengthen your inner guidance, and your ability to sense your inner guidance, to hear it, to feel it, and to act upon it.

Call your soul to you right now, or simply imagine that you are becoming your soul, slipping easily into soul consciousness. There is a sense of expansion, of greater light all about you as you connect with your soul. There is a feeling of peace, a sense that all is well. Feel your soul's love pouring through you and out to the world. Notice its radiant light. Feel your soul's great intelligence. Know that you are your soul.

As your soul, become aware of the soul plane and the souls of others who are joining you to work with Divine Will. Observe the beautiful light that you are creating as a group.

The souls of many Great Ones are here as well.

There is great beauty, light, and music here in the soul plane.

There is energy coming into the soul plane from many higher sources. You are going to turn your attention upward and sense the great Spiritual Sun, the light of all lights, and the light of higher purpose.

Sense the seven Beings transmitting Divine Will, focusing Divine Will into humanity.

Hold as your intention, the intention to receive clear inner guidance from your higher self and soul, to be able to distinguish that guidance, to know that guidance, and to trust it and to act upon it.

Now call upon the energy of the first Great Being, the Divine Will to Initiate. Let It flow into the top of your head as you sense this Will, a beam of its light coming down to you, the Will to Initiate new consciousness, new realizations.

As you think of receiving clear inner guidance, you are transmitting the Will to Initiate to this spiritual goal. With this Will, it opens you to your higher purpose and the plan for your life. It opens you to knowing more of your soul's goals, your soul's aspirations. Let this energy flow into you and awaken your consciousness so that you can receive clear guidance that will lead you to carrying out the divine plan and purpose of your life, of knowing what it is, and seeing your next steps more clearly.

Feel the pure, raw power of this electrical Will releasing all hindrances, all blockages to your receiving clear inner guidance. The channel is clear.

You are gaining the strength, courage, and fearlessness to receive inner guidance, to listen to inner guidance, and to recognize it.

Open now to receive the Will to Unify. A beam of its light is coming from this star to you. Feel your soul all around you as the Will to Unify touches you. It creates an even greater fusion with your soul. Feel the boundaries between your personality and soul growing less. Your personality flows into your soul and blends with it. Your soul flows into your personality, until there is hardly any distinction, and you know yourself as a soul in new and deeper ways.

As a soul-infused personality, open to your soul's guidance, its loving words, its loving vision. Your soul knows your path and what you are here to learn. It knows the way of love. It has a larger vision, and from that larger vision can give you clear guidance.

Ask your soul to send you clear guidance on something that you want guidance about, knowing as you do this that your soul will not only send you guidance, but it will begin to energize certain paths and take the energy out of others. Ask for guidance now in some area of your life.

Now sense the Will to Evolve. Ask for a stream of this energy of Divine Will to come into you. As you do this, think of the area you wanted guidance in. For a moment, let go of your personality expectations, desires, and wants in this area.

Open to your soul's plan for this area of your life, which will be even better than anything your personality can imagine. Let the message from your soul become even clearer as you use your creative intelligence, your connection to the universal mind, and open to a wealth of ideas and new information about this area of your life.

With your intention, think and request energy from the Will to Harmonize. As you think and ask for this energy it is sent to you immediately. Feel the immediate response as the Will to Harmonize flows into you.

All limitations you have put on receiving clear guidance are falling away, for this Will opens the doorway to your intuition and strengthens your ability to know.

With this Will imagine that you are bridging the duality, the emotional swings that make it hard to recognize your inner guidance.

When you are free of the duality, you are no longer swinging back and forth between just two choices. Your inner guidance will show you an even higher way to go.

Think of something in your life right now that you may be going back and forth over, a choice or a decision you have wanted clear guidance about. With the Will to Harmonize flowing through you, open now to clear guidance, (which may come now or later), bringing you new choices in this area of your life.

Request energy from the fifth quality of Will now so that you may form clear thoughts of what actions to take, what thoughts to hold that reflect your higher mind. Sense this quality of Will flowing into you.

The Solar Angel of the mind is joining you. A bridge is being built, strand-by-strand of light. Every time you go to these levels to work with Divine Will, to work with your soul, you build another strand of light into the threads that connect you with the higher parts of your being.

Now imagine that threads of light, more and more, are being built between your higher mind and your everyday, concrete mind, your logical mind. As this bridge is built your guidance becomes more and more precise. You are adding more strands of light to this bridge between your higher and lower mind.

Again ask for guidance, anything that your soul would like to show you, a new way to think, or a new thought. Open to receive this now.

Call upon the Will to Cause. Connect with this Will energy right now, imagining a stream of its light coming into you, infusing you with its light.

As you receive this light, let it work with you to release any beliefs that you cannot receive clear guidance. Release them now.

Build new beliefs, new thoughts, that you can receive clear guidance, remembering the times in the past when you have, and picturing a future with clear guidance flowing through you often.

Let this quality of Will flow into you, and receive a symbol into your ajna center that will awaken further your ability to receive clear inner guidance.

Now draw in the powerful seventh quality of Will, the Will to Express divinity in form.

Let your inner guidance grow stronger with this Will. Your ability to trust and to act upon your inner guidance is growing stronger. You are patient. You are observant. You let this inner guidance flow in a rhythm, opening to receive it when it comes.

Your messages can come from many places—through your dreams, through symbols and images, through the words of other people, through books, tapes, and songs. Let this Will help bring you all the guidance that you seek.

You are beginning to see guidance all around you. You are recognizing that inner voice, the new thought, the feeling of truth, and the energy behind those things that are guidance from your soul and higher self.

For a brief moment imagine all seven qualities of Will flowing into you.

Transmit these seven qualities to your intention to receive, recognize, and to know clear guidance from your soul and higher self.

When you call Divine Will to you, it always responds. This area of your life will transform. Be observant and pay attention, and you will receive clear guidance, you will know it, and you will feel the truth of it. The power of that truth will make it easy to take action and follow your inner guidance.

Come back easily, happily, in a state of peace and flow. And I bid you good day for now.

Program 9 Expanding Your Creativity

Orin: In this journey you will work with Divine Will, drawing it to you to awaken your creativity, so that you may express yourself creatively in all that you do. For as you do this you are living a soul life, for your soul is infinitely creative.

Begin this journey by using your breath to relax, to go deeper within, to let go of the outside world, and to expand into the light of your soul. You are becoming more aware of yourself as a soul now, knowing that higher and wiser self as who you are. You are feeling the love of your soul become the love within you, and knowing yourself as your soul in more and more ways.

Feel your soul's presence, a radiant angel of light, a master on its own plane. It is learning to master the earth plane through you, for you are your soul as it appears on the earth plane. You are rapidly gaining the strength, power, wisdom, and love of your soul from moment-to-moment. You are reflecting your soul's presence more and more.

Sense around you the souls of all those who are working as you are to transform their lives with Divine Will, to bring this energy to humanity by bringing it into their own lives. Sense the thousands of souls who are joining you now, adding to the strength of this work. The group work right now will be to open creativity, to express creativity.

Sense the Spiritual Sun above you, infinitely creative.

Think of the seven stars of the big dipper, feeling their energy and their power and their light as they focus Divine Will into humanity.

Let the first quality of Will, the Will to Initiate, pour into you, into the top of your head. Feel this star lighting up and a beam of its light flowing down into you. This is the Great One whose energy of Will initiates the true activity of your soul in accordance with the divine plan of your life.

Your soul is so creative. It expresses its creativity in everything that it does. As you open to this Will, let It initiate a new consciousness within you, the consciousness of expressing creativity, of being creative. Let your creativity blossom. Ideas and insights and revelations come to you as you awaken and express your creativity.

Let this Will energize your intention to be creative, to express your creativity.

Next open to receive a stream of Divine Love and Divine Will from the second Being who is transmitting the Will to Unify. Let this flow into your heart center. With your intention to be creative, let it awaken your creativity in your relationships. Finding new, creative ways to inspire, lift, and to show compassion and love.

You are finding new, creative ways to work with this Will to bring unity between yourself and others.

You are finding new, creative ways to blend with your soul, to unify all the parts of your being.

Now draw in the third quality of Will, the creative intelligence of the Universal Mind, the Will to Evolve. This Will assists you in bringing through and creating the goals and visions of your soul and higher self. It allows you to be creative and to think creatively. It allows you to see the bigger picture, to think in the abstract ways of your higher mind, to see beyond the world of form and understand how the universe works.

Feel your creative mind expanding, your creative ability to penetrate the mysteries of the universe, to know essence behind form.

Use this Will to creatively expand your consciousness, your potential, and your ability to think and be aware. Let this energy pour into you now.

This creative intelligence is awakening your creative intelligence at every level. As you open to this energy you may observe many new, creative ideas flowing into you about how you may accomplish whatever you are working on, creative ideas about what you can create, that brings into your mind new ideas and new thoughts. The creative intelligence of this Will is pouring through you, awakening your creativity.

Next bring in the fourth quality of Will, the Will to Harmonize. You are expressing your creativity through your imagination, creatively bringing about beauty, art, music, and forms of all kinds that express beauty.

This is the Will that releases limitation. Any way that your personality has limited your soul from its creative expression is now being released. You let your creativity flow from the inner into your outer world, bringing about beauty, bringing about harmony. Your soul expresses itself creatively. Let your creativity awaken.

Let your soul show you something right now to express your creativity in.

Draw to yourself, simply by your intention to do so, the fifth quality of Will, the Will to Act. Link your higher and lower minds by imagining that you are building a strand of light, strand after strand, between your two minds, between the mind of your soul and your everyday mind, your logical mind. As you do this, as this Will flows through you to your logical mind, your creativity is blossoming even more.

Your thoughts are becoming creative. New thoughts, inventive thoughts, new ideas, new pathways in your mind are opening up. As you express yourself creatively you add light to the world. You are linked with your soul with love in your heart.

See your thoughts supporting you in being creative, in living a creative life. Your thoughts support you in believing in and bringing forth your creativity. Open to new seeds of thought, wonderful, joyful, inspiring, and creative thoughts that show you new things to do with your life, show you new directions to go, new paths to try, new possibilities. Your creative mind is infinitely inventive. Open to this now, letting the fifth quality of Will pour through you.

Let the sixth quality of Will come into you, the Will to Cause. It is the very essence of the urge to create. It is the creative urge of divinity, of the soul, of the spirit. It is the inspiration that causes manifestation, causes ideas. It causes the ideals that are the motivation to create. Link with this, so that everything you create is motivated by your soul's ideals, and is in alignment with the higher good for yourself and for all life.

As this Will flows into you, feel it strengthening your urge to express your creativity, to lead a creative life.

Draw in now the Will to Express, to bring heaven to earth, the Will that brings the higher energies into manifestation in an orderly, rhythmic way. Let this Will flow through you. Become the urge to manifest creatively your life purpose, your goals, your aspirations, and to manifest all that is good and beautiful.

As you work with this Will, become more creative in all the things that you manifest. Picture yourself finding the right timing, and manifesting with precision.

You are creatively working with the subtle energies and forces, working with light and energy, and expanding all the creative ways you know to manifest.

Let the ability to manifest and bring into form creatively all those things that are in alignment with your path open up within you.

As you come back, you will think of yourself as a creative person. You have a new self-image that will grow stronger every day as you experience new creativity in every area of your life. Coming back now, and I bid you good day for now.

Program 10 Evolving Your Body

Orin: Greetings, and welcome to this journey on creating your ideal body by working with Divine Will.

Start by becoming more aware of your body. Put your attention on your feet, noticing if they are comfortable. Adjust your feet and legs so that the energy can flow and so that you feel relaxed. Let the energy move up your legs into your knees, relaxing your legs, your thighs, and your hips.

You are observing these areas of your body and how they feel. You are noting the places of comfort, of ease, and letting those places of comfort spread to more and more areas, until your lower body feels relaxed.

Bring your awareness into your stomach and your hips. Notice how your breathing touches your belly. Bring your awareness into your back and spine, letting the energy flow up and down your spine, adjusting your posture so that you can breathe more easily and fully.

Notice your chest and your breathing. Let your breath fill up into your upper chest. Send it down your arms, send your breath all the way down to the tips of your fingers. You are filling yourself with relaxation and peace.

Let your shoulders drop. Adjust your shoulders and your neck so that energy can flow from your lower body into your upper body. Relax the muscles around your mouth and your eyes, and then let your jaw relax. Notice where your body touches the surface and where your clothes or material touches your body.

You are enhancing your physical awareness right now. Become aware of your body at more levels, for simply putting awareness into your body is one step of bringing it into alignment with Divine Will.

Let yourself expand into soul awareness right now. Feel that beautiful light of your soul all around you, its love pouring into you, its power and strength becoming a part of who you are at the personality level. Expand into the light that you are, expand into your multidimensional self. You are sensing more light all around you.

As your soul, sense your body through your soul's eyes. Notice that your soul sees your body as light and energy, and looks for ways to make the energy more beautiful.

Let yourself expand your awareness to see the souls of others around you.

Feel the warmth and light of the Central Spiritual Sun shining down upon you.

Let the seven stars of the Big Dipper, the Great Ones who are transmitting Divine Will, come into your awareness.

You are going to call upon the Great Being who is transmitting the Will to Initiate. As this Will responds and comes into you, it travels down through the top of your head. This time, as you receive it, focus on its quality of purification. Its electrical power will stimulate the atoms within you that are ready to go to their next level of evolution and begin to purify and release lower, denser energies in your aura and in your physical body. Call upon this energy now and receive it, letting it purify and evolve your body.

This quality of Will is awakening new awareness, new consciousness about your body. Feel yourself becoming aware of your body and what it needs for its evolution.

Next focus upon the Great One who is transmitting the Divine Will to Unify, to unify all the parts of your personality with your soul. Feel the magnetic love of this Being streaming towards you right now. As your connection to your soul deepens, all the parts of your personality are working with your soul to bring about a body that can hold your soul's light—a refined body, a strong body, and a healthy body.

With your connection to your soul and the Will to Unify, your vision of what to do with your body, how to love and honor it, is becoming clearer.

Just as the magnetic love of the Will to Unify embraces you, embrace your body with the magnetic love of unity, unifying all the cells and all the atoms. You are the higher self to your body. Radiate love to your body now, a love that unifies.

Sense this radiant love that you are transmitting from the Will to Unify to your body. You are bringing your body the higher light of unity, evolving your body with love. You truly love your body. You have a vision of how to love your body so that it can serve you in becoming your soul, so that it can serve you in receiving these powerful energies of Divine Will, and so that it can serve you in carrying out the activities of your soul and the divine plan of your life.

Ask for energy from the Great One transmitting the Will to Evolve, to evolve your consciousness, and to evolve your body. This is the creative intelligence to bring about the transformation of your body. This Will assists you in creatively formulating a plan to find the shortest and most effective way to your goal of evolving your body.

Draw in this quality of Will. Through your soul's eyes, with your vision and your new consciousness, create an image of your body, as it will be when it is transformed. This might come to you as an image, or a sense, a picture, or light and energy. Get a sense now from your soul and your expanded consciousness of the transformation that your body needs to be able to hold more light.

Now with this quality of Will flowing into you, you are receiving a wealth of ideas about how to bring this about. You get quiet, listen to your soul and higher self, and let new ideas emerge of how to transform your body.

Call to you now the Will to Harmonize. Let this energy flow into you that will release any limitations your personality has put on your soul. You are beginning to harmonize the duality, letting go of the resistance and the struggle, and opening to your higher good in this area of your life, creating emotional balance.

Draw in this quality of Will to add beauty to your body. Your body is a work of art, and you are making it more beautiful. You are surrendering your personality desires for your body to your soul's goals and visions. As you surrender to your soul, your personality is gaining new strength, new abilities to bring about a physical transformation and to create a beautiful body, in harmony with your soul. Let this energy flow into your now.

Draw to you now, by thinking about it, the light of Divine Will coming from the Great One transmitting the Will to Act.

The bridge between your higher mind of your soul and your mind that receives ideas you can act upon is growing stronger.

You are adding more strands of light to this bridge so that your thoughts are clear, positive, and can show you what steps to take and what direction to go.

Your mind can move energy in your body with the quality of Divine Will flowing into it, linked with your higher mind and the Universal Mind. You can know right action. You can hold right thoughts that take you to your goals. Your thoughts are positive. They support you. You think in positive ways, you have clear thinking. You know what to do, and you trust and believe in yourself.

Draw in now the Divine Will to Cause, the impulse to action that comes from right motivation. The impulse to act is growing stronger, and the motivation to take action is inspired by your soul. You believe you can create this transformation in your body, and you let go of any beliefs that say you can't.

You see why having your transformed body is in alignment with Divine Will and your soul's wishes for your life.

Because your soul wants this for you, and it is being willed through you by Divine Will, there is much power and energy supporting you in carrying out, in bringing about, your transformed body.

Fill up with this Will now, strengthening your urge to take action, motivated by your soul. Your body has been awaiting this and is opening to receive this energy as you draw it to you.

Now bring in the seventh quality of Divine Will being transmitted by the Great One transmitting the Will to Express, the energy that brings about the physical fulfillment of the energy you have been bringing in.

Know that this transformation will come in its perfect timing. You have patience and persistence. If you find yourself struggling, you will remember to draw in this quality of Will, remembering that Will is coming through you, helping you to bring this about. You do not have to do this with your personal will.

You have the courage to overcome the inertia of matter and to create a light-filled body—cells of light, atoms of light.

Say to yourself, “I will to create this new body,” feeling Divine Will pouring through you, willing this to happen with you.

As you keep working with the seven qualities of Will, and your body will transform.

Come back now when you are ready. And I bid you good day for now.

Program 11 Creating a Supportive Environment

Orin: Greetings. This is a journey on working with Divine Will to bring about an environment that supports you in living a soul life, that has the right amount of quiet, of light, of energy flow, of everything you need to live your life purpose and to feel supported in the world.

Start by expanding into your soul’s light, feeling your soul all around you. Sense your soul’s light going out and out and out, many feet around you, into your environment. If you are indoors, feel your light going all the way out to the outside. If you are outside, let your energy travel outward, your soul’s light moving outward through nature.

Continue to let your soul’s energy and light expand and expand into the area around you, touching flowers and trees, sensing other people, sensing your neighborhood.

You are moving out as a soul, sensing the souls of all life around you, the shimmering light around all plants, the soul around all animals, and the divine spark of the soul and spirit within all humans.

You notice that your soul can be infinitely large. Expand beyond your community, into your country.

Send your soul’s light out all around the world, sensing the souls of all humanity as a great light.

Now move into the soul plane, sensing the soul plane and the Spiritual Sun above you. Your soul exists in many planes and dimensions.

Sense the Great Ones who are transmitting Divine Will to humanity.

Call to you now a stream of energy of pure, raw power, the electrical energy of the Will to Initiate. Let it come down into the top of your head, all the way down to the base of your spine, linking your personal will with your soul’s will, awakening new consciousness, awareness, insights, and revelations.

You are gaining a new awareness of your environment—an awareness of the way energy flows, of the light around you, of the air you breathe, of all the energies that you live in and around. You are sensing, becoming aware of these energies as seen through the eyes of your soul.

With Divine Will you are initiating the consciousness to recognize the changes that need to be made so that your environment can support you in living a soul life and in creating your life purpose. Let this Will flow into you.

This energy is awakening your awareness and consciousness of all the energies about you. With this awakened awareness you have the ability to know, to see, to become aware of, and to create your ideal environment. Think of your environment now, and bring in a new awareness of the energies you live in and around.

Connect now with the energy of magnetic love, the Will to Unify that is flowing out from this Great One, the Will that puts you in right relationship with all life around you.

Begin to broadcast this Will to your neighborhood, to your community, to the plants and animals, this Will that brings unity.

As a personality blended with your soul, you are radiating a magnetic love that unifies you with all the energy around. You are becoming magnetic to love. You are becoming magnetic to those things of soul and spirit. You are enhancing all the life force energy around you with your radiance and with the Will to Unify flowing out of you.

Link with the Will to Evolve. Connect with the Great One who is transmitting this energy that evolves your consciousness and evolves the forms in your life.

With this Will streaming into you, get silent within. Let go of the plans of your personality, the desires that you have, just for now. Open to the vision and plans of your soul, to its wisdom of what your ideal environment would be like. Open to its power to create that environment. Do this now.

Your creativity is awakening. A wealth of ideas is pouring into you, of new ways to create your ideal environment, of new aspects to your ideal environment.

With this Will, you are beginning to see the steps you need to take to bring it about. As this Will flows into you, your consciousness is evolving—your ability to sense, to know, and to create your ideal environment is expanding.

Draw in now the Will to Harmonize.

This is the Will that releases limitation—the Will of balance and of emotional flow. This is the Will that creates beauty all about you.

Draw in this Will and see it flowing out into your environment, sending a wave of beauty that moves out into your environment, touching every object around you.

Let this Will flow out through the walls of your house, to the outdoors, all the way into your community, further and further out. Let these waves of harmony travel through you, bringing beauty, light, and harmony all about you.

Your soul loves beauty, harmony, and light. As you bring these qualities into your life, you are expressing yourself as a soul and doing the work of your soul. Feel everything about you becoming more beautiful. You have the ability to create an environment that supports you, that nurtures you, and that adds to your light.

Draw in now the energy of the Will to Act from this fifth Great Being. This is the Will to think and act in ways that lead to your liberation.

As you connect with this Will you can release your attachment to the forms in your life, to any that no longer serve you. You now let go of any form, anything you have created, that holds older, denser energy.

As you release the old, fill up the space that is left with light, and fill it up with new forms that represent your greater light, forms that will bring you freedom, and that will leave your soul and spirit free.

Radiate this quality of Will into your mind so that you can see clearly what to draw into your life and what to release. You do not need to see it at this moment, for the knowledge will come to you at the right time, in the right way.

Stand in God's pure light. Let it move through you and flow out into your environment, adding this pure light to all the energy around you. Take time now to picture this pure light flowing into everything you can think of as you hold it and radiate it.

Bring in now the Will to Cause, the urge to creative action based on the ideal of your soul, as you fill up with this energy and transmit it into your environment.

This is the Will that will bring about your soul's ideals. You add light, and beauty, harmony, order, and love to your environment so that you may carry out your soul's goals, so that you can become a brighter light, so that you can add love and light to the world in easier and better ways. You are creating an ideal environment that serves you in living a soul life.

This Will strengthens your ability to release any forms that do not serve you. Let it come into your mind now, if there is anything that you need to release, anything that you need to change.

Draw in this quality of Will and say to yourself, "I now Will thisto leave my life." You know that Divine Will is working with you and for you.

Now connect with the seventh quality of Will, the Being who is transmitting the Will to Express. Bring this Will into yourself, the Will that brings all that you are creating, all that is within your soul, all that is within you, into the outer world. It helps you create forms, the place you live, the people you are around, and all the energies about you, that are in alignment with your soul.

As this Will flows through you, you are setting the energy for the creation of your ideal environment—beauty, music, art, nature, light, and all that you need are coming to you now. You have all the confidence and strength, persistence and precision needed to bring this about.

This is the Will that brings the angelic kingdom into the environment around you, called to you by your soul. The changes will come in right timing, step by step, in a rhythmic, orderly way. You will bring about your ideal environment.

Let all seven Wills flow at once through you, radiating in waves outward, organizing everything around you into a higher pattern of greater beauty. When you are ready, come back. Ideas will flow, and you will have a new awareness of the energy you live in and around. And I bid you good day for now.

Program 12 Living a Soul Life

Greetings and welcome from Orin. In this journey you will bring together all that you have worked on to create your ideal life—a soul life of balance, peace, and joy, of love and harmony, of clear thoughts, and an ever-expanding vision.

Start right now by going inward to your inner world. Feel yourself becoming very centered, very balanced, as you expand into your soul now.

Sense the souls of all those who are joining you to link with Divine Will to live a soul life.

The Central Spiritual Sun is above you.

You can sense the seven Great Ones who are transmitting Divine Will.

Pay attention as you look upward in your mind's eye to the seven stars of the Big Dipper, each one representing a Great Being transmitting Divine Will to humanity.

Call to you now the Will to Initiate, to bring about new consciousness, to bring revelations and insights. This is a powerful Will of strength, courage, and fearlessness, that helps you initiate the new and expand your awareness so that you can know yourself and your soul in new ways.

As you work with this Will you are expanding your awareness of what it is like to live a soul life—expanding your awareness of your soul, and allowing yourself with this Will to Initiate, to have, to open to the consciousness of your soul on a moment-to-moment basis.

This is the Will that initiates the true activity of your soul in alignment with the divine plan and purpose of your life. You now affirm that you have the intention to live a soul life, and to do everything you need to do to bring about your ideal life. And you now open your awareness; you initiate the consciousness, to bring this about.

Open to this powerful energy of Will as it flows into your head center all the way to the base of your spine, bringing you power, intention, and awareness.

Draw in energy from the second Being who is transmitting the Will to Unify that leads to vision. The soft, magnetic radiance of this Will touches your heart center. Your heart center is expanding with love. All the parts of your personality are coming together and living under the direction of your soul.

Your unity with your soul is increasing. You make soul alignment often during the day. All you need do is think of your soul, connect with its energy, and you have made alignment. Its guidance, its love, its awareness, will then flow through you and out to your life. Picture yourself aligning with your soul often, as if an inner message comes into your mind and tells you it is time to align with your soul. Picture this happening often.

As your soul, and with a soul alignment, you are recognizing others who are the path. You are drawing to you relationships that support you in living a soul life.

Radiate love to all your relationships right now.

You know your unity with all life. Your picture of the universe and your part in it is expanding.

You follow your heart, for you know as you do you are living your soul's path. Your soul shows you what to do through your heart, through those things that you love that bring you joy. What do you love to do that you could do more of, that is part of your path and purpose?

Think of the great one transmitting the Will to Evolve, and draw in this powerful transmission, a transmission that links you with the Universal Mind and creative intelligence of the universe.

You are enhancing your ability to manifest a soul life, your ideal life, a creative life, with your connection to this Will.

Let go right now of your personality pictures of what a soul life would look like. Draw in this Will and imagine that you are surrendering your vision to an even higher vision of your life. Your creativity is awakening even more. You are seeing many creative things you can do to bring your life into alignment with your soul and its rhythm and its light. You take time to get quiet and listen.

You draw in this Will to Evolve all the forms in your life so that they can reflect your inner light. Transmit this Will to all the forms in your life, all the situations, all the things that you have created, picturing them evolving as you do this.

You sense the directions that are emerging and you move towards them in all that you do.

Connect now with the Will to Harmonize that brings balance, inner peace, and flow into your life. As you create your ideal soul life, see yourself living in the rhythm of your soul. You are in harmony with all parts of your being and all life around you.

Draw in this Will now, and imagine as you do that you are releasing all limitations to creating your ideal life.

Feel yourself opening to a life of beauty and creativity. You are expressing the beauty of your soul in all that you do. What could you bring into your life to live in the rhythm of your soul, to create more beauty in your life?

As you work with this Will you are becoming more intuitive and are listening to your intuition. Your intuition is showing you how to serve the whole, how to be in harmony with all life. You are receiving your soul's guidance clearly, for you are in a state of balance and emotional flow.

Draw in the Will to Act, building an even stronger connection between your higher mind and your lower mind, so that you can think the thoughts of your soul, thoughts that lead to your liberation. Your thoughts show you what steps to take to lead your ideal life, to live a soul life. Every step you take expands your consciousness, leads you closer to your soul and spirit.

Your mind is clear. Your thoughts guide you to your liberation, to your enlightenment, to fulfilling your potential. Draw this Will into your mind now and feel your mind expanding.

Connect with the Great One who is transmitting the Will to Cause, drawing in this energy, letting it come into your third eye, aligning your personality with your soul's goals, so that your motivation for all that you do and all that you create are your soul's motivation.

Open now to some of the qualities that this Will brings—the quality of being devoted to your soul—the quality of persistence, a one-pointed focus, optimism, and believing in yourself and your ability to create your ideal life.

As you draw in this quality it is transforming personality desires into your soul's desires, strengthening your desire for a spiritual life, a balanced life.

See yourself letting go of anything that does not serve you to lead your ideal life.

Feeling this connection to Divine Will, let it be revealed to you, come into your mind, something that needs to be released so that you can live your ideal life. This may be a thought or a feeling, a person or a circumstance, or an activity. Let this come into your mind now.

You believe that you can create your ideal soul life. You have the power of Divine Will working with you, wanting this for you. You have all the tools you need to bring about your ideal life.

Draw in the power of the Will to Express. The Being who is transmitting this Will is connecting with you now.

This is the Will to express heaven on earth. This is the Will that propels all the inner work you have done on the inner into the outer world so that it may manifest in your life, bringing your life into alignment with your soul, with your higher purpose, with everything that nurtures and supports you in living a soul life.

With this Will and your soul, ask to be shown if there is something that needs to come into your life, something that is ready to change, something that you can bring into your life right now that is in alignment with your soul.

All the changes you need to make are coming about, and you are organizing your life to support living as your soul. The inertia of matter is meeting with the power of evolution, of Divine Will. Movement, flow, light, is happening in your life. It is coming about in just the right timing.

You are growing in your ability to create the life you want. You create your ideal life by joining with your soul, aligning with Divine Will, drawing it into you and transmitting it to your life. Every day in every way your life is coming into greater alignment with your soul and higher purpose, and into alignment with the greater universe and all life in it.

You have just taken a wonderful journey of transformation. As you come back now, acknowledge how far you have come, how much you have learned, and how you have the power to live a soul life.

And I bid you good day for now.

Transforming With Divine Will

If you are new to Divine Will, this course is a good place to start. In this course you will receive seven qualities of Divine Will (also called Higher Will) from the Great Ones who transmit Divine Will to humanity. Divine Will is one of the most transformative energies in the universe. Divine Will transforms every level of your being when you open to its energy. Receiving and aligning with the seven qualities of Divine Will taught in Orin's course can transform your life, unfold your highest potential, expand your consciousness, and assist you in manifesting in alignment with the Divine Plan and the higher purpose of your life.

Divine Will is pure spiritual energy that comes from the higher dimensions. Calling it to you creates an enormous infusion of spiritual energy into your life that awakens new consciousness, realizations, and revelations. As you align with Divine Will, you infuse your personality with new skills and more power to carry out your higher goals and purposes.

Working in this way can create wonderful changes in your earth plane life. To transform your life and consciousness with Divine Will, you need to contact It, call It to you, and draw It into your life as Orin will guide you to do in the journeys in this course. You will learn how to call upon each of the 7 Great Ones transmitting Divine Will. Linking with Divine Will can deepen your connection to your soul and Divine Self.

As you work with and open to receive the energies being transmitted in this course from Divine Will, Orin, your soul, and the beings of light, you can awaken spiritual vision, deepen your intuition and wisdom; experience an illumined mind, let go of struggles, and release lesser energies and limitations. You will ask for and receive energy from them to increase your spiritual power, love, creative intelligence, purpose, clarity, harmony, understanding, wisdom, intuition, clear thinking, illumination, and inspiration. You can link with Divine Will to experience more spiritual power, to initiate new awareness, to let go of battles, to follow the highest light within you, and to create heaven on earth.

Aligning with Divine Will can be one of the most transformative steps you can take on your path of Self realization and enlightenment. Understanding and working with Divine Will is a part of taking higher initiations, and is a way to open a doorway into higher realizations of Oneness and God-Consciousness. Course contains separate journeys for each of the seven qualities of Divine Will, as well as journeys on creating harmonious relationships and abundance with Divine Will, and on transmitting Divine Will to others MM050.

Will 1: The Will to Initiate

Transforming Your Consciousness

Clearing Lesser Energies, Illusions, and Limitations

In this course, you will work with a quality of Divine Will called the Will to Initiate that brings the spiritual power to release the thoughts, illusions, glimmers, lesser energies, and obstacles that stand in the way of living as your soul-free, joyous, clear, loving, and harmonious. You will learn how to use the power of your soul's light and Divine Will to release lower, denser energies, thoughts, emotions, desires, and the fog and mists of illusions that keep you stuck or limit you in some way.

As you release these energies you can change lack and limitation into abundance. You can transform the way you experience yourself and your relationships, as well as your activities, behaviors, thoughts, feelings, desires and emotions. You can learn to set clear boundaries and to live a life that honors who you are. You will discover ways to release energies that make you feel tired, worried, tense, fearful, and those that lead to pain and suffering. You will learn that these energies are not yours, and with this realization you can work with the power of your soul's light to release them. You can experience joy, peace, and harmony in every area of your life.

Orin guides you to meet and work with your Solar Angel to transform your emotional body so it can reflect your soul's pure love. You will work with your Solar Angel to transform your mental body so you can release thoughts that have kept you bound to a lesser vibration. You will use symbols to build a bridge to your higher mind and the Universal Mind, and learn to better hear your intuition. You will be guided to connect with the Masters to receive messages and energy for your evolution.

Using the processes taught in this course your inner light can shine more brightly, your path can be clearer, and you can express your true, authentic Self more easily. You can release fears, worries, obstacles, and limitations that are holding you back, and move past all previous limitations to create the life you want. Course consists of 10 Orin journeys, talks by Sanaya, and extensive written information. DW911 Read more about the Will to Initiate on our website.

Will 2: The Will to Unify

Experiencing Continuity of Consciousness

Discovering Your Soul's Path

Connect with your soul and a quality of Divine Will called the Will to Unify to know more about your soul's path, experiencing continuity of consciousness as you are guided to remember more about your other lifetimes on earth. As you become more aware of your past lives and see the continuity of your being throughout time, you can gain more understanding of this lifetime and why you feel certain ways and have certain relationships.

Sanaya Roman

LuminEssence Productions • www.orindaben.com

With continuity of consciousness, you can have new insights about why you chose an earth life. You can learn more about the skills, purposes, and directions that have appeared throughout all your lifetimes, aiding you to discover more about your higher purpose and what you are here to do in this lifetime.

You will have a chance to connect with your future selves, and meet and receive energy from your future enlightened Self to accelerate your spiritual evolution.

You will be guided to experience higher levels of your being and to strengthen the continuity between your consciousness in these higher levels and in ordinary reality. This can aid you in maintaining higher awareness throughout the day, and in experiencing the wisdom, power, and love of your soul in every moment.

With continuity of consciousness, you can learn more about the essence of your being and the skills, purposes, and directions that have appeared throughout all your lifetimes, putting this lifetime into the perspective of a larger whole. You can expand your awareness of who you are, and know more about why you are here and what you are here to do.

Continuity of consciousness can give you new perspectives about every area of your life and being. You can find aspects of your path and purpose becoming visible that you are not yet aware of before. You can discover new avenues to explore; have fresh, original ideas, an expanded sense of self; and greater creativity. Course consists of 6 Orin journeys, talks by Sanaya, and written information. Will 3: The Will to Evolve
Evolving Your Consciousness
Stepping Onto Your Highest Path

In this course, you will link with your soul and a third quality of Divine Will called the Will to Evolve to find and to step onto your highest path. You will play in the infinite potential of the Universal Mind where you will meet your future enlightened Self. This Self will light up your highest path, a path that leads to enlightenment in the most effective, direct way; that accelerates your evolution, and that allows you to manifest your highest potential in this lifetime.

Your Enlightened Self will send you energy to sense, see, and follow your highest path in each moment, and aid you in rejecting lesser paths and choices. Your Enlightened Self and soul will infuse you with strength and courage, and any other qualities you need to recognize and to turn away from lesser paths and directions.

You will be guided by Orin to look over your life as it exists now, open up stuck places, and replace lesser patterns with greater patterns. You can weave new, higher patterns into your life that will appear as new circumstances and opportunities, and positive changes in your relationships, career, and financial state. As you set your intention and commit to following your highest path, you become magnetic to all that you need to manifest this path. 9 Orin Journeys, talks by Sanaya, and written information. Will 4: The Will to Harmonize

Intuition: Connecting With Your Divine Self

Opening to Your Inner Knowingness

In this course, you will link with your soul and the fourth quality of Divine Will, the Will to Harmonize. In the illumination of your soul's light and with the assistance of this Divine Will quality, you will contact your Divine Self, a part of you that exists at a higher level than your soul and that Orin has referred to as "spirit" in past journeys. This Self is the source of all spiritual power, love, and wisdom; it is your eternal, true Self that is the essence of your being.. This Self is always reaching out to you, offering you its energy and guidance.

The Will to Harmonize is a quality of Will that opens intuition and that ends separation between you and your Divine Self. You will work with this Will and Orin to open all channels of communication to your Divine Self, the source of intuitive guidance. Through this connection, you can awaken your clairvoyance and clairaudience, and clear emotions and thoughts that stand in the way of your receiving, hearing, and correctly interpreting your intuition, the still, small, quiet voice of your Divine Self.

You will be guided to sense the Divine Self of others and receive intuitive guidance about your relationships. You can experience more peace, harmony, and flow in every area of your life through connecting with your Divine Self, getting clear intuitive guidance, and releasing lack and limitation. Create and sustain the Divine Blueprint of your life. Course consists of 10 meditations by Orin, talks by Sanaya, and written material. Will 5: The Will to Act

Illumination: Awakening Your Higher Mind

In this course, you will work with the fifth quality of Divine Will, the Will to Act, to release thoughts and beliefs that may be creating disease, pain, suffering, lack, limitation, doubt, uncertainty, and anxiety, disharmony, blockages, or discord in any area of your life and to have thoughts that lead to your liberation and enlightenment.

Orin and many beings of light will assist you in linking your mind with your higher mind and the Universal Mind. The Universal Mind knows only infinite perfection, beauty, and truth. When you realize your oneness with the Universal Mind, you can experience unlimited abundance, joy, harmony, good health, loving relationships, and peace in every area of your life.

You will learn how to strengthen your connection to your Divine Self through building the rainbow bridge, also called a bridge of light, to this Self. This opens the channel for your Divine Self to infuse you with Its unconditional love, unlimited spiritual power, and infinite wisdom. Course consists of 10 Journeys by Orin, written material, and talks by Sanaya. DW915 Read more about the Will to Act on our website.

Orin's Divine Will Seminar Series -

Will 6: The Will to Cause

Inspiration: Being Your Authentic Self

In this course, you will work with the sixth quality of Divine Will, the Will to Cause, that brings inspiration. This connection can assist you in experiencing the inspiration of the highest part of your being, your Divine Self, the cause of all manifestation. Orin will guide you to express your Divine Self through all the levels of your being, becoming your authentic Self. This quality of Divine Will assists you in deepening your commitment to the realization of Self. It helps you shift the cause of actions, thoughts, and creative urges from personality desires to the ideals of the Divine Self. Then, all you do brings you joy, rather than pain or suffering.

You will receive seeds of inspiration from your Divine Self to transform your life and consciousness—the master seed of divinity, to awaken the divine nature within you, seeds of divine love, vision, freedom, purity, perfection, inner stillness, balance, devotion, one-pointedness, endurance, fearlessness, patience, and many others. These seeds are gifts from your Divine Self and are living entities, divine consciousness that come with all the energy, motivation, vision, enthusiasm, circumstances, receptivity, insights, and understanding to unfold perfectly in your life.

You will work with the flame of tranquility to calm your emotional body, and plant seeds of purity and perfection to restore your divine pattern to its original perfection. You will expand the roles you play and let go of restricting roles so you can be your authentic Self around others. You can be in the flow, set boundaries that honor you, and love and treat yourself with respect. You can live an inspired life, full of energy and enthusiasm, and experience more self-confidence and clarity as you express the spiritual power, love, wisdom, and creative intelligence within you. Course consists of 19 journeys by Orin with music by Thaddeus, talks by Sanaya, and extensive written material. DW916 Read more about the Will to Cause on our website.

Divine Manifesting with the Seven Qualities of Divine Will

Part 1: Manifesting as Your Divine Self

As you listen to these talks by Sanaya and journeys by Orin, you will call upon each Great One who radiates a quality of Divine Will to experience the power, love, vision, wisdom, purpose, harmony, intuition, illumination, and inspiration of your Divine Self, so you can more perfectly create the Divine Blueprint in every area of your life.

As you become more aware of your Divine Self, the highest light within you, what you create will be an expression of the highest part of your being. When you manifest as your Divine Self, you draw to you situations, forms, relationships, and circumstances that bring you joy, peace, harmony, abundance, love, success, and all good things.

This is a wonderful course in manifesting that is the first part of the Divine Manifesting with the Seven Divine Wills and Divine Self course. Course consists of 8 guided meditations by Orin and talks by Sanaya and written material. It is recommended that you study this before taking Part 2 of the Divine Manifesting course, and we highly recommend that you continue on to Part 2: Becoming a Master of Manifesting soon after completing Part 1 to have the most success in manifesting as your Divine Self. These are Orin's most advanced and transformative courses on manifesting, as well as on connecting with your Divine Self, and they have created profound results for people who have taken them. Part 1: MM070. Part 2 of Divine Manifesting

Will 7: Becoming a Master of Manifesting

In this course, you will call upon the seventh quality of Divine Will, as well as all seven qualities of Divine Will at once, to learn a step-by-step process of divine manifesting. You will link with the seven Great Ones who transmit Divine Will. You will learn how to symbolically “stand” in the center of these powerful spiritual forces of Divine Will, aligned with your Divine Self, opening to Divine power, love, vision, wisdom, purpose, harmony, intuition, illumination, clarity, inspiration, abundance, and peace that can be yours; qualities that will transform everything you manifest and draw to you.

You will work with these Great Ones to greatly increase your inner light, to step through a doorway into a new level of illumination, to purify your aura, to align with your Divine Self, and to build a bridge of light to open to more light from your Divine Self. You will learn how to better receive divine ideas and inspiration, to give life to your creations, to become magnetic to all you need, to receive guidance in each moment, and to build the etheric blueprint of what you want to manifest.

You will clear all obstacles to manifesting what you want and dissolve any thoughts, beliefs, attachments, and limitations that would stop you. You will work with the devas, the sacred transmuting flame, and other energies to manifest the highest possible forms, circumstances, and relationships. You will evolve your desire body and begin to create a new personality that more perfectly reflects your Divine Self.

This is Part 2 of the Divine Manifesting course. It can vastly expand your understanding of manifesting and give you processes you can use to bring through whatever you are creating in its most beautiful, radiant form; that will give energy back to you; and bring you joy, harmony, abundance, love, and many blessings.

You can work with these two Divine Manifesting courses together to become a master of manifesting. Courses together consist of 22 Orin journeys, talks by Sanaya and written material. Orin's Millennium Journeys

Expand Every Level of Your Being

The guided meditation audio courses by Orin that follow will assist you in accelerating your spiritual growth and in connecting more deeply with your soul. They are some of Orin's more advanced journeys, and work with Star energies such as those from the Great Bear, Pleiades, Sirius, and the Spiritual Sun for transformation.

You can work with these guided meditations by Orin to expand your consciousness, accelerate your evolution, and illuminate your mind. Read more about Star Energy and Sanaya's story of the Millennium Course. Each audio course contains 12 guided meditations by Orin with music by Thaddeus.

Increasing Your Inner Light

Your inner light determines what you experience and draw to you. Increase your inner light and things that do not support you will dissolve and disappear. You will draw to you your higher good—greater supply, abundance, peace, and harmonious circumstances. Open your mind to enlightened thoughts; awaken soul vision; see into the future; and experience more of your soul's light, love, will, power, serenity, and joy. Learn how to travel into the fifth dimension, reorganize the essence of your being into a higher pattern, and attract new opportunities to yourself. You will bring light from your soul, the Solar light, and an electrical-type light from a Master to awaken your chakras. You will then bring light into the atoms of your body for atomic radiance to awaken the seed of light within them. MM010

Expanding Your Consciousness

Expand your consciousness as you connect with your soul, a Master, the Solar Angels, the soul of the earth, the solar light, the mind of God, and the Enlightened Ones. Align with Higher Will and your soul's will, expand your intuition, merge with higher levels of your being, and gain a soul perspective of your life. Explore your soul's higher purpose, receive energy from beings of light to open your chakras, to manifest your higher path, to stay in the flow, and to become a light for others. Open your intuition and channel to the higher levels of your being, and receive energy from the Spiritual Sun, one of the highest lights in the universe. MM020

Accelerating Your Evolution

Link with your soul and connect with the light of Spirit, also called your Divine Self to accelerate your evolution. Know and live your truth, create new light within you, and release limitations. Awaken spiritual power, activate evolutionary codes, release resistance, learn to surrender and trust, and explore higher dimensions of light to accelerate your evolution. Gain new insights and perspectives; transform your body, mind, and emotions to a higher vibration; express your inner truth; and experience greater wholeness of being. Release attachments, limitations, and energy blockages. MM030

Building a Radiant Aura

Work with the angel who directs the devas – small angelic beings – to build a radiant aura, to purify and refine your aura, to awaken your clairvoyant sight, to evolve your chakras, to draw in solar light, to receive a steady stream of light from the higher dimensions and Stars, and to increase your connection to the Oneness. The radiance of your aura determines how you think and feel, and the well-being of your physical body. The radiance you build in your aura is the substance that clothes your thoughts in light and gives them the power to manifest and bring you wonderful, positive circumstances. Your radiance determines the circumstances in your life, and the type of energy you live in and around. You will purify your aura of denser energies, and create an aura filled with light. MM040

Orin's Spiritual Vision Courses

Vision: Seeing and Sensing Subtle Energies

In this course, originally taught as a live seminar, Orin guides you to awaken your third eye so you can see and sense subtle energies. You will work with a Master of Vision to evolve your physical eyes. You will work with energy to build triangles of mental illumination and emotional clarity, using your third eye to view your life with clarity, understanding, and higher vision. You will awaken the five pointed star of vision in your third eye as you work with the Master of Vision.

You can have more clarity about what to manifest as you learn to see beyond illusions and without doubt, fear, or other emotions that might cloud your clear inner sight.

You will work with the energy coming from Sirius to see clearly, free from attachments, in the light of liberation; from the Pleiades to better see what to manifest; from the Great Bear to see higher purpose; and from the Pole Star of Direction to see your path of return home, to your source. As you awaken your inner vision, you can create a life that reflects the beauty and perfection of your spirit—your Divine, eternal Self. The material world and your daily life can then express the spiritual qualities of love, freedom, clear inner guidance, vision, peace, and harmony. This course will increase your etheric sight and ability to work with the devas. Contains 9 Orin journeys, music by Thaddeus, talks by Sanaya, and written material. OR917

Vision: Creating Your Highest Future

In Orin's Vision: Creating Your Highest Future course, you will explore many powerful processes to create your highest future. You will work with the Lords of Time and the Master of Vision, and learn ways to set up your third eye to see into the future.

You will strengthen your ability to receive guidance from your subconscious, higher self, and soul to find those choices, decisions, and paths that create your highest future. You will learn how to bring soul qualities of joy, love, peace, harmony, vision, and clarity into every area of your life. You will project your soul's light into your life to manifest forms and circumstances that reflect your soul's love, wisdom, clarity, joy, peace, and power.

You will view your soul's records to know more about why you are here. You will discover how to be more magnetic to good things, and to repel anything that is not for your higher good. You will create your highest future by linking your mind with your higher mind for insights and understanding, by aligning with Divine Will, and by receiving powerful spiritual energies that are coming to the earth plane. You will be guided to look at potential earth changes and societal changes, and to make predictions.

You will awaken your spiritual vision by working with star energy from the Pleiades, Sirius, and the Great Bear. In a powerful journey of initiation, you will receive energy from the Master of Vision to awaken your vision, from the Lord of Civilization to increase your ability to manifest, from a World Teacher of love to awaken your heart center, and from the Angel of the Presence a gift of light just for you to assist you in creating your highest future. Contains 10 guided meditations by Orin, music by Thaddeus, talks by Sanaya. OR918

Orin's Living Your Life Purpose Course

Learn more about your life purpose through looking at your life from the perspective of your Higher Self and then your soul. You will go back to your childhood to view the messages your childhood dreams have about your life purpose. You will meet your soul group who will join their light with yours to give you strength and courage, revitalizing and rejuvenating you to find and live your life purpose. You will receive energy from the Enlightened Ones to gain more clarity and insight into your higher purpose in various areas of your life.

You will learn how to align with the plan of humanity to know what steps are next for you to take. You will connect with many beings of light and receive their gifts of light and consciousness to assist you. You will meet and work with aspects of your personality, called "parts" or also called subpersonalities, so you can more easily carry out the goals of your soul.

Orin created a journey you can play whenever you want upon awakening to assist you in living your higher purpose for the day. You can have greater clarity about what activities you are doing that are in alignment with your higher purpose, and release any that are not. Contains 8 guided meditations by Orin, music by Thaddeus, talks by Sanaya. OR914
